Bucyrus Train Wreck Injures 30; Damage Placed at Million

Freight Car Is Rammed By Passenger

'Manhattan Limited' Knocked Off Tracks Five Miles West of City

Railroad workmen pushed a round-the-clock cleanup program near Bucyrus today to remove the wreckage of a speedy Pennsylvania passenger train which crashed into a derailed freight car early Monday, injuring 30 persons and causing damage estimated at nearly a million dollars.

The passenger, the "Manhattan Limited," traveling west at 70 miles an hour, rammed into the freight car which had just jumped the track and all but one of the passenger cars were sent flying off the rails, though all remained upright.

Broken Drawbar Blamed

Miraculously, no one was killed and no one critically injured.

Cause of the crash was determined today to be a broken drawbar on the freight train.

Charles F. Parshall of 694 Girard Ave., Marion, inspector for the railroad division of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, said the broken drawbar—which is a part of the coupling between cars—dropped down and knocked the front wheel trucks out from under the eastbound freight car.

Pushed by some 95 other freight cars behind, the disabled car twisted around into the path of the passing passenger train.

E. R. Adams, assistant trainmaster at Crestline, said that the broken drawbar was on about the 25th car behind the freight locomotive.

The freight train contained a total of 130 cars and there were 19 cars in the passenger train of which only five were actually passenger cars. The others were mail and express cars.

Full Investigation Set

Parshall said today that he will conduct a complete investigation into the cause of the accident in a meeting with PRR officials at the division superintendent's office in Fort Wayne, Ind., at 9 a.m. Thursday. He said that an accurate estimate of the damage should be forthcoming from that meeting.

The wreck tied up both tracks of the two-track PRR line west of Bucyrus from the time the collision occurred at 2:55 a.m. until shortly after 7 p.m. Monday when the eastbound track was opened to traffic. The westbound track was torn up most and was not repaired and reopened to traffic until about 10:40 p.m. Monday.

In the meantime, Pennsylvania trains were rerouted from Crestline through Marion over the New York Central lines and from Marion over the Erie lines to Decatur, Ind., and Fort Wayne, and back onto the regular PRR route.

A total of 11 trains was sent through Marion over this route. They included two fast freights and nine passenger trains. Other

3-Day Holiday's Traffic Toll Nears All-Time Record High

School To Start For City Pupils On Wednesday

The trek back to school begins Wednesday morning for thousands of Marion youngsters in the public schools and St. Mary School. County schools opened this morning.

Half-day classes will be observed in the city schools and St. Mary School tomorrow. Classes for the city youngsters will begin at 8:45 and end at noon.

438 Killed, Overall Death Total Hits 608 Mark

By The Associated Press

A heavy toll of traffic accident deaths was made by American motorists during the three-day Labor Day weekend, exceeding advance predictions and the toll for the 1954 holiday.

Reports still trickling in today showed 438 persons died in traffic mishaps between 6 p.m. local time Friday and midnight Monday. An additional 80 persons drowned and 90 died in miscellaneous accidents for an overall total of 608.

This compared with a record high of 461 and record overall total of 658, both set in 1951. The 1954 traffic toll was 364.

The National Safety Council had predicted 400 would die over the holiday. Today Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said in a statement:

"The toll, thank Heaven, stayed below the all-time record for Labor Day. x x x It is of small comfort to anyone who sincerely believes that this wholesale slaughter on the highways need not and must not be tolerated.

"We hope and believe that extra effort on the part of everyone between now and Christmas will hold down the year-end holiday toll."

Safety council statistics show that 32 other persons are injured for every traffic death. Also, for every three persons killed, a fourth dies later of injuries.

Last year, 364 were killed in traffic accidents during the Labor Day holiday.

This year's holiday toll also topped that of a nonholiday weekend tabulated two weeks ago for comparative purposes. An Asso-

The automobile was still the most lethal weapon as the long Labor Day Holiday weekend came to an end with 39 fatalities counted in Ohio. The toll of dead from Ohio's traffic accidents alone climbed to 29, exceeding pre-holiday estimates which predicted the state's highway toll would go as high as 22.

Ambassador Gets Word at Geneva Talks

Two Others, Including Catholic Bishop, Need Only To Seek Permits

GENEVA (AP) — Communist China notified the United States today that nine American civilians detained in China, including six women, were now free to return home.

Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan told U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson at their 13th meeting that two other Americans could leave at once if they asked for exit permits and a third could leave within two or three months.

The two ambassadors have been meeting at intervals since Aug. 1, negotiating the release of 41 Americans imprisoned in China or denied exit permits.

First Positive Result

The announcement by Wang was the first positive result of the talks since they began.

There was no indication when the Chinese Reds would release the 29 Americans not mentioned on Wang's list, but the ambassadors agreed today to continue their secret talks on Saturday.

American delegation members were able to find only a partial identification for some of the Americans listed for release by Wang. A delegation spokesman said none had been imprisoned.

Listed for Departure

Listed for immediate departure were:

Miss Emma Angelina Barry, a young girl living in Shanghai with her mother, a white-Russian who was not an American citizen.

Ralph Sharples Boyd, Shanghai representative of the North American Syndicate, born in Washington, D.C. in 1891.

Mrs. Juanita Byrd Huang, a Southern Baptist missionary married to a Chinese citizen, born Mount Olive, Miss., in 1904.

Robert Howard Parker, a retired businessman born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1873.

Howard Lischke Ricks, manager of Bills Motors branch in Shanghai, born in Boscobel, Wis., in 1889.

Mrs. Howard Lischke Ricks, wife, born in Shanghai in 1894.

Bishop Free To Leave

Miss Eva Stella Dugay, known as Sister Theresa, a nun in the Carmelite Convent in Shanghai, born in New York City in 1893.

Mrs. Nadesha M. Romanoff, a White Russian living in Harbin who became a naturalized American citizen in 1937, place and date of birth not known.

Slow Down—School Is Back

IT WON'T BE NECESSARY to slow down to "horse and buggy" speed as illustrated here, but motorists who drive faster than 20 miles an hour through school zones beginning Wednesday in Marion are apt to be arrested. Helping to make the point by driving a buggy past a school zone speed limit sign is Miss Marcelite Carpenter of 534 Avondale Ave. She is accompanied by Larry and Diana Crowe of 569 E. Farming St.

'Gladys' Drops Heavy Rains on Coast of Texas

Tropical Storm Turns Westerly Into Mexico, Poses Threat of Floods

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Tropical storm Gladys, apparently weakening but still dangerous, hung over Mexico near Tampico today after turning away from Texas, her rains posing flood threats to a wide area.

The wayward storm turned away from Texas Monday night and the Weather Bureau said the middle and lower Rio Grande Valley apparently was spared. But the bureau warned that squalls still could cause isolated flash floods along the Rio Grande.

Squalls Hit Coast

Squalls with winds ranging up to 50 miles an hour were occurring all along the lower Texas Coast.

Weathermen said Gladys' future movement was uncertain, but she was expected to drift slowly southward, remaining over land and weakening slowly. That would send her rains sloshing toward Mexico City, where she has caused the worst floods in the capital's recent history.

Weathermen at Mexico City already blame Gladys for three days of rains. The rain has caused disastrous floods, affecting some 40,000 families.

Gladys slammed into the Mexican coast about 150 miles below Brownsville with winds of about 70 miles an hour—five short of hurricane velocity. Then it turned sharply south-southwest and passed almost directly over Tampico, Mexico.

Power Fails

Half of Tampico was plunged into darkness by power failures. Wind damage in the city was heavy and families fled the low-lying areas flooded by the Panuco River.

To the north, storm warnings were still up in the Brownsville-Port Isabel area in extreme south Texas. High tides occurred and huge waves pounded the beaches from Galveston, Tex., southward.

In Mexico City, some four square miles of working class districts were under water.

Drivers Are Urged To Keep Eye Out For Children

Slow down time is here again for motorists as city and county schools open their doors this week for the 1955-56 school year.

With children of all ages streaming back to classes, added care and observance of traffic laws should be the watchword of every driver—particularly in areas near schools.

THE SPEED LIMIT in school zones is 20 miles per hour and this is pointed out to each driver by signs placed along each street in the school zones.

During the summer months, many drivers have gotten into the habit of driving faster through the school zones, knowing that the school speed limits are applicable only during those periods when schools are in session.

But beginning this week all drivers had best mend their ways. City police, state highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies are resuming active enforcement of the 20-mile speed limit in the school zones.

Police Chief Thomas B. Coon warns that city police will not tolerate any speeding near schools by anyone. Every such violator apprehended will be charged with speeding and will be required to appear in court to answer the charge, he said.

SIMILAR ACTION will be the order of the day for other law enforcement agencies regarding speeders in the rural school zones.

Strict enforcement of these laws is necessary to help protect the children going to and from school. But the responsibility is not all the drivers'.

Parents should do all in their power to instruct their children to follow safe walking practices. Boys and girls should be cautioned against crossing the streets any

Senator Says Ike Sound on Foreign Policy

Hickenlooper Differs With Stevenson Over Top Campaign Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said today the Democrats will be treading "unsound ground" if they attack President Eisenhower's foreign policies in next year's political campaign.

Hickenlooper, a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member, vigorously disputed Adlai E. Stevenson's criticism of the Eisenhower international program in an article in Look magazine.

Hit Farm Program Also

Eisenhower's "most serious failures" in office stem from foreign policies of "bluff and backdown," wrote Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee who is expected to announce soon his availability for the nomination again in 1956.

Stevenson said Eisenhower's international policies are aimed alternately at pleasing "both right-wing and liberal wings" of the Republican party. Stevenson and Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler also attacked Eisenhower's farm program record in separate statements.

Definite Contribution

Hickenlooper interpreted Stevenson's Look article remarks as indicating Democratic plans to criticize Eisenhower's foreign policies in the 1956 campaign, as well as his domestic programs. The senator defended Eisenhower's foreign program and declared Republicans will be ready to meet any such attacks.

"The impression I got in a recent trip to Europe is that our allies feel our policies are sound, that we are working for peace in a practical way," he said in an interview.

$10 Million Job When Done

Marion Training School Work Nearly Completed

Work on Ohio's newest penal institution, the 10-million-dollar Marion Training School, is nearly finished, but it will be a year or a bit longer before it is filled to capacity.

The dormitories, each of which will house 64 prisoners, are finished. The 165 prisoners now in temporary buildings at the training school will move into them late this month.

To House 1,200

Two more dormitories of the same size and cellblocks for 400 prisoners are nearly finished, says M. C. Koblentz, chief of the State Division of Correction.

The training school, originally intended as a reformatory but later designated as a medium-security institution, is three miles northeast of Marion. It will house 1,200 prisoners transferred from Ohio Penitentiary by late next year.

Still more construction is on the drawing boards. Koblentz said money supplied by the last Legislature will permit construction of enough new units to take care of an additional 300 men.

500 by January

Koblentz said the two-story brick dormitories will be filled up as quickly as other prison facilities for the men are in operation.

"We're not going to transfer prisoners to Marion until we have shops set up for them to work in and until the dining facilities are adequate," he said. "Prisoners have to be screened and classified so

Claims To Be American

Man Released by Russia Is Quizzed on Nationality

BERLIN (AP) —A civilian handed over to U. S. control by the Russians after seven years in Soviet labor camps was questioned closely today to determine his claim to American citizenship.

U. S. officials said that Fredrick Charles Hopkins told "so many different stories" that his actual citizenship could be open to question. The man reportedly said Monday after the Russians released him that he was from New York City.

One of Three Released

Hopkins is in the custody of intelligence agents. He is in good health in spite of his long years in camp, doctors said.

He was handed over by the Soviets Monday along with Pvt. Wilfred C. Cumish, 39, of Amesbury, Mass., and Cpl. Murray Fields, 36, of Bayside, N. Y.

Both soldiers had been missing since 1948 and may be tried as deserters. They were under guard today in the Army hospital until medical examinations are completed.

Has Reason

The three said they knew nothing about a report that another American by the name of Grishman was in Soviet hands and was about to be released. The report came from Austrian repatriates in Vienna last week.

Officials said Hopkins apparently had some reason for clouding his past and they had not yet discovered what it was. One authority

Palestine Frontier Cease-Fire Shaky

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Egypt struggled today to maintain a shaky peace along the tense Gaza frontier.

Israel apologized Monday for the only clash reported along the border since both nations renewed their cease-fire pledge Sunday. The Israelis said one of their patrols had crossed into the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip Sunday night "through a mistake."

Egypt said the patrol of 20 soldiers opened fire on an Egyptian outpost. Two Israelis were killed and a third taken prisoner in the ensuing clash. The Egyptians said they suffered no casualties.

Nixon Statement Helps

Pressure Growing for Ike To Run for Second Term

DENVER (AP)—Republican party pressure on President Eisenhower to run for re-election is building quite a head of steam.

Vice President Nixon stoked the boiler fires well Monday with his statement that those closest to Eisenhower—and "the overwhelming majority of Republican leaders" throughout the country—are more optimistic than ever that he will agree to be a candidate again.

Meets With Newsmen

And the pressure almost certainly will mount several degrees Saturday when GOP chairmen from all 48 states confer with the President here to map party strategy for the 1956 presidential and congressional campaigns.

Nixon met with newsmen at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters after he had discussed national security problems with the President for about an hour. The vice president said he and Eisenhower talked no politics whatever, but Nixon had plenty to say on that subject afterward.

He said in his opinion Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is "through" as a political threat to Eisenhower and as "a major devisive force" within the Republican party.

McCarthy Replies

McCarthy, said Nixon, was such a force last year at the time of congressional elections when the senator was firing sharp criticism at Eisenhower. In those elections the Republicans lost control of Congress.

"Our political history shows," Nixon said, "that when an individ-

UN Consultant Is Speaker for Pastors' School

DELAWARE, O. (AP)—A consultant to the food and agriculture division of the United Nations says Christian missionaries have helped revolutionize farming in foreign countries.

Dr. Raymond Miller made the statement at Ohio Wesleyan University here last night before a group of Ohio ministers in the five-day annual pastors' school. The school is sponsored by the Ohio area Methodist board of directors.

Dr. Miller said, "the greatest single contributing force to the theory of technical cooperation is to be found in the pioneer work of the Christian missionary."

The UN consultant, who recently toured the Far East, said Asia holds one of the two major world questions today—whether "Asian countries will develop industry under the peaceful intents of the democratic process or under an enforced tyranny."

He said the other question concerned use of atomic energy.

Robert B. Anderson, former Navy Secretary who recently resigned as Deputy Secretary of Defense, will address the pastors' school tonight.

Farewell Held for Girl Entering Church Work

A farewell for Miss Vera Trent, who left today for Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, Ill., where she will enroll in the missionary course, was one of the highlights of an all-day Labor Day program of the Maranatha Bible Church Monday.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Trent of 332 Nye St., was graduated from Harding High School in June and has been employed at Station WMRN.

Other activities of the day included a morning service at Garfield Park, basket dinner at noon, services in the afternoon and evening, and swimming at Camp Owens in the afternoon.

An Albuquerque man, known to Moriarty only as a construction worker named Hastings, took the tourist into Albuquerque, paid for tire repairs and then drove Moriarty back to his stalled car and stranded family. Moriarty so far has had no luck finding his benefactor to repay him.

6 Out of 10 Americans Church Members

U.S. Keeps Postwar Religious Interest

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans have kept up their postwar interest in religion, swelling total membership in U.S. churches of all faiths to a record 97,482,611.

This figure, reported Monday by the National Council of Churches, means 6 out of every 10 persons in the United States is listed as a church member.

"There has been no pause or letdown in the vigorous postwar growth of the churches," said Dr. Benson Y. Landis, editor of the council's yearbook, in which the new figures are to be published this month.

The council's figures show that church membership is growing faster than the population of the country. Most of the current church figures are for 1954. The rise over 1953 is 2,639,766 or 2.8 per cent. In the same period the population rose 1.7 per cent.

THE COUNCIL is an organization of 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox bodies but its yearbook statistics cover all American churches, which now have a total of 300,056 congregations, 5,597 more than in 1953.

More than two billion dollars are given annually to churches, the council reported, and church construction in 1954 hit an all-time high, amounting to 588 million dollars. This was 25 per cent more than a year ago.

Clergymen in active charge of local churches total at least 213,167, compared with 207,618 the year before.

The yearbook reported that church members now make up 60.3 per cent of the population, compared with 49 per cent in 1940 and 16 per cent a century ago "when Americans were popularly supposed to be more religious-minded than today."

THE YEARBOOK listed this membership breakdown by religious groups:

Protestant — 57,124,142 in 273,508 churches.

Roman Catholic — 32,403,332 in 20,794 churches.

Jewish — 5,500,000 in 4,079 churches.

Membership in the largest Protestant denominations or denominational groups was:

Baptist — 18,488,621.
Methodist — 11,688,002.
Lutheran — 6,818,283.
Presbyterian — 3,703,021.
Protestant Episcopal — 2,660,699.

Convict's Gun Made of Soap Bluffs Guards

QUEBEC (AP)—Convicted murderer Wilbert Coffin bluffed his way out of jail with a gun made of soap early today. He tied up seven guards and locked the sergeant-at-arms in the boiler room.

But the 44-year-old Gaspe prospector, sentenced to hang Sept. 23, was persuaded by his lawyer to give himself up after only 1½ hours of freedom.

Brandishing the intricately carved soap gun, Coffin took all the keys of the jail with him when he left.

Lawyer Raymond Maher, who defended the prospector at his trial last year said Coffin hailed a taxi a few hundred feet from the jail and asked to be driven to the Quebec bridge.

As they neared, Maher said, "Coffin asked the driver if he knew where I lived."

The driver, Gaston Labrecque, telephoned his office for Maher's address and then drove to the apartment.

Coffin was convicted of murdering Richard Lindsey, 17-year-old Hollidaysburg, Pa., hunter, two years ago.

Young Lindsey's bear-gnawed bones, along with those of his father Eugene, 47, and Albert Claar, 20, a friend, were found in bushland after they set out on a hunting trip in June 1953.

Topsoil

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

When the floods receded in the Berkshire Hills, what made exciting photography were torn up streets, smashed houses, destroyed homes—things that stand out and can be looked at. But, for farmers, the real damage was to the top soil.

Let me describe what happened to a neighbor of mine in New Boston, only about eight miles from my farm.

This was a prosperous farm as things are measured in these mountains. The farmers raised corn and grass to feed cows. A farmer with 35 or 40 head of cattle is regarded as prosperous and his milk check comes in every month. Milk is his major business. On the side, he works in the woods or on the road.

HE DOES NOT HAVE as much machinery as a Western farmer because he does not need it. When his land lies low, along the river, he can use tractors but where the land is full of boulders, he often employs more primitive methods. Before the war, many of my neighbors still used work horses, but their sons, coming back from mechanized warfare, increased the mechanization on the farm somewhat

The population consists principally of what are known as Swamp Yankees, folks who came into the hills from Hartford to fight Indians. They stayed. Such areas as Sandisfield became prosperous principally because of the wonderful cheddar cheese they made — cheese that came to be known as American cheese, store cheese, rat cheese, or York cheese.

WHATEVER IT was called, it originated in Sandisfield, although when the railrods came to other parts, the cheese industry moved away, as did the most energetic young men, some of whom settled as far away as New York State and Ohio.

The farm I have in mind lies close to the Farmington River. There is a flat piece which grows good corn. On the rise there is ample grass for 35 milk cows. Then there is an abrupt mountainside covered with mixed wood—pine, maple, oak, birch, etc. There is a small apple orchard.

There have been floods here before but this Diane was something very peculiar. It was fast. It did little damage to trees in the woods; it seemed to specialize in gravel and boulders and tore top soil into shreds It dumped tons of gravel on soil that had been carefully nurtured; it dumped sand on the low spots.

THE SOIL IS NO good for grass and corn anymore, unless it is given coating of top soil or cured by some other method that agronomists may know about.

Farmers love soil as parents love children. Otherwise, they would not be farmers. There are easier ways of earning living even up here. Their lives are tied to the soil and their wives work alongside them. Nowadays, those who have tractors work in teams, husband and wife, one on the tractor, one alongside heaping the stones into piles.

These people live that way, a long day of hard work, and we have few if any divorces.

SO NOW THAT the soil is gone, one does not know what to do. A neighbor said to me: "We don't need relief. We can eat. We can get long over the winter. But what are we going to do in the spring when planting time comes? Where are we going to plant corn and alfalfa? In the sand?"

This is their problem and it is a technical problem beyond their knowledge and experience and probably entails costs beyond their capacity. Those who come in to aid still are hypnotized by the smashed roads, but the thought of the soil has not yet caught the attention of the rehabilitators.

THEY KNOW HOW to fix up a house or to repair a barn or a silo, but the soil is a new idea and a new problem and there is nothing in the questionaires about it.

Yet socially, this is the most important consideration. These small farming communities of New England, 200 or 300 population, centering about a general store, looking forward to the annual Town Meeting, governed by selectmen, holding a square dance on a Friday or Saturday night—these are strong social centers in American life.

These are people with roots deep down who will never be relocated because here is their life These are the people of the New England soil

VICTOR RIESEL

The first global strike in history is under way.

We've had industry wide strikes, citywide strikes and nationwide strikes—but now we're witnessing labor's ability to reach around the earth in a fight with a company and pull a worldwide stoppage

The battle is between the quiet but influential 850,000 - member AFL International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) and the Flying Tiger Airline, Inc., a non-scheduled outfit which has been trying to float from airport to airport to avoid picket lines—like the one at the Burbank, Calif., field the other week which included a live tiger equipped with picket signs.

So effectively has the union called on its counterparts in airports from New York to Tokyo to boycott the line during this wage dispute that the Flying Tigers are having difficulty getting their planes fueled and serviced across the world.

THE ISSUE in this strike, which pivots on the union's demand for a six cents an hour increase and a union shop, is overshadowed by the Machinists' global tactics.

This technique of working unity on a world front is a significant sign of things to come on the labor scene.

The strike started in June when the company asked for a wage cut and the union asked for $2.40 a week more and a union shop such as the regular U.S. airlines agreed to.

The company countered by offering to withdraw its demand for a pay cut if the IAM would drop its wage bid. The union refused — and the fight was on.

Naturally, with the strike rolling, the union called out its picket squads. But the Flying Tigers, being non-scheduled, could simply move from airport to airport picking up cargo, fuel and service 1,000 miles from the nearest picket—or even a continent away.

SO THE UNION declared the Flying Tigers a "hog cargo line." This means that the union is asking all other unions not to handle Flying Tiger cargo, planes or passengers in any airport.

Then the Machinists contacted the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, a sort of global AFL-CIO with headquarters in Brussels. This central headquarters immediately turned to two of its affiliates called the International Transportworkers Federation and the International Metalworkers Federation. It asked them to notify all their people at all world airports.

Cables went out from these secondary world headquarters. Soon messages began streaming into the Machinists' building in Washington.

FROM PARIS came word that the Federal Secretary of the Public Workers and Transport Federation had instructed its members not to provide any assistance to any Flying Tiger aircraft landing at Le Bourget or Orly Fields there

From Britain the message was that the labor officials on the government's Joint Council for Civil Air Transport (a labor - management group which covers the British Overseas Airways Corp.) had notified government officials that British workers would not service the Flying Tiger Airline in English airports after Aug. 29.

From the Netherlands, the airport workers notified the IAM that they had talked with the authorities who had promised to notify the Dutch Air Transport Workers Union of any incoming Flying Tiger ships.

THE DUTCH UNIONS would then know which airport the line would be using — and would instruct its people not to service or fuel the craft.

In Switzerland, the Union of Public Service Employes, civil aviation section, was assured by Swiss air management that no Flying Tiger planes would be handled.

Similar messages came from Austria, Cuba, Canada, Germany, Italy, Norway, Sweden and even Japan. And thus the first worldwide boycott was in effect.

THIS TIME it is an airline, but this solidarity of world labor could take on many another corporation in international trade.

The International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, in which the AFL-CIO exerts considerable leadership, also has international "secretariats" (central world headquarters) for the world's workers, in the mines, in garment and textile plants, post offices, government offices, wood mills, hotels, print shops and business offices

The precedent has been set for world action.

Pavement Plato

By Hal Boyle

HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK

Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato:

The day after Labor Day is a good time to consider what life will be like in America when the standard work week will be only 10 hours long.

Sound impossible? Well, no less an authority than CIO President Walter Reuther says a 10 - hour work week is on the way, although perhaps there is no point in the average man straining his eyeballs looking for it on the horizon now.

"Working for a living will be sort of a hobby," he said. "We'll never know how much genius went unborn because of the sheer human task of feeding families. We'll never know the Pasteurs or Edisons or Rembrandts or Marian Andersons who never had a chance."

THERE IS NO doubt of a long-time trend toward a shorter work week. The productivity of the American worker, rising at roughly the rate of 4 per cent a year, enables him to get more done in a shorter space of time. The growth of automation—we seem only at the doorstep of the true push-button age—is speeding this trend.

The spread of the five-day, 40-hour week (35 in some industries) hasn't been quite the social disaster the moralists expected.

Leisure hasn't destroyed the working man. He has stubbornly refused to go to pot. He may not be any happier than his grandfather. But he is healthier, is living longer, and has the time and energy to do things his grandfather never dreamed of.

But a 40-hour work week is one thing, and a two-day, 10-hour work week is quite another.

HOW MANY husbands would leap at the opportunity to stay home and listen to their wives three more days a week?

The 10-hour week would also ruin politics. With all that time to kill, everybody would run for public office just to keep from being bored Career politicians would be out of work.

Perhaps the 10-hour week would uncover a new Rembrandt or some mute, inglorious Milton. But with everybody free to attack a sonnet or an easel, the chances are that the nation would be flooded with 9th rate Miltons and 10th rate Rembrandts.

Frankly, the idea of being overwhelmed by sonnet reading friends and amateur Rembrandts poses the problem that culture can be carried too far. Personally, I don't feel up to the perils of a 10-hour week.

I'll settle for the 20 hour week—and free coffee

(Editor's Note: The real truth is that we've been trying for years to get Boyle to work a four-hour week—and we're losing ground.)

Akron Fugitive Among 10 Most Wanted by FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slender Danny Everhart likes to dance Some people say he's a pretty good man on a tuba too, and that he enjoys composing cross word puzzles for magazines.

Sounds innocent, doesn't it?

Actually, the FBI describes Danny as a "very dangerous individual" from Akron, O. Wherever he is, he always packs a gun.

For Danny Everhart — alias Thomas Jacobs, George R. Murphy and Carl Myers—is on the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

Police officers at Akron say he has participated in three armed robberies and two burglaries. The FBI quotes him as saying:

"No policeman is going to take me alive. They are going to have to come and get me."

Everhart, now 30, started his criminal ways at 12 He was arrested at Canton, O. five years ago and sent to the Ohio Penitentiary for a term of three to 45 years for burglary and larceny.

Then last year he escaped from the prison farm at London, O.

Since his escape, he has been bragging that the authorities are after him, the FBI says. Agents add:

"No private citizen can be considered safe from his depredations until this hoodlum is captured."

Here is Everhart's description: five feet, 9 inches tall; weighs 135 or 145 pounds; white; brown eyes and light brown hair; previous occupations include taxi driver, truck driver, laborer and clerk.

Identifying marks: appendectomy scar, numerous pit scars on face and tattoo of name "Betty" on outer part of left forearm.

FROST TECHNIQUE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — Robert Frost, 81-year-old dean of American poets, has never sat at a desk while writing verse. And he scorns the typewriter. He writes longhand on paper resting on a simple board held up in front of him by a walking stick. "Anything I write I could write standing on my head," says Frost.

"...let's cut out the fine print!"

THAT'S WHAT THE MAN SAID
SO THAT'S WHAT WE DID...

"Folks," he said, "let's cut out the fine print in this auto insurance policy and make it easy to read and understand..."

Who is this man? Chairman of the Board... President of the Company? Not by a long shot.

He's one of 2,000,000 Nationwide policyholders—but he's a member of the Policyholders Advisory Committee. This Committee is made up of policyholders who are elected by fellow policyholders. They meet annually with Nationwide officers to speak their minds about what they like and don't like about their companies' activities, policies and services.

This policyholder spoke his mind... and Nationwide answered with the AUTO-graphic—a completely new auto insurance policy.

- The AUTO-graphic is SHORT, over 3,000 words cut out—without any loss in protection.
- The AUTO-graphic is READABLE—big type all the way through, with no annoying fine print.
- The AUTO-graphic is ILLUSTRATED—with pictures showing coverages and benefits.
- The AUTO-graphic is TOP PROTECTION—broader auto coverages plus Comprehensive Family Liability for non-auto accidents, too.

This story could only happen in a company like Nationwide. And there is no other company quite like it. Only in Nationwide do you find a family of policyholders who work together to keep rates low and insurance service tops for all.

Why not call the Nationwide representative in your neighborhood? He'll be glad to show you how you can benefit by the new AUTO-graphic policy, and how you, too, can become a member of the Policyholders Advisory Committee.

Fire Destroys House, Leaving Two Homeless

A fire Monday morning destroyed most of the contents and the small home of the wives of two Marion servicemen, Chief O. A. Sifritt reported. Damage was estimated at $2,000.

Firemen also reported one inhalator run early this morning.

The fire started at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the kitchen of the three-room home shared by sisters-in-law, Mrs. Clarence George and Mrs. Floyd Davis on Cottage St., and owned by Paul George, father of Mrs. Davis and Mr. George.

Fire Chief Sifritt said grease in a skillet on a kitchen range caught fire while Mrs. George stepped out of the house to go to the Paul George house nearby.

Mrs. George and Mrs. Davis, with the help of George, were able to save a few items, but most of the furnishings were destroyed by the fire, Chief Sirfritt said.

Loss of $1,000 resulted to the furniture and the remaining damage was caused to the building. Firemen from the Central station and the township truck responded to this call.

The husbands of the two women are serving in the Navy. George is now in Japan, while Davis is in California waiting to be sent to Japan. They will be discharged from the Navy sometime next summer, Mrs. George told firemen.

The inhalator was requested at 12:40 a.m. today for Scott Baker of 395 Olney Ave. when he became ill. It was operated 20 minutes successfully and then Baker was sent to Marion General Hospital

Chinese

Walsh, head of the Roman Catholic bureau in Shanghai, and Mrs. Peter Huizer, married to the Dutch manager of the Shanghai branch of the Bank of America, were free to leave China whenever they applied for exit visas.

Bishop Walsh is a brother of Judge William C. Walsh of Cumberland, Md., a former Maryland attorney general.

Charles Sydney Miner, Shanghai representative of several American companies, including American Asiatic Underwriters, the Metropolitan Land Co. and C. V. Starr Enterprises, was free to leave after the two or three months he needed to "complete the settlement of his affairs," Wang said.

Wang's announcement was tossed unexpectedly into today's 2½ hour meeting of the two ambassadors.

The American spokesman declined to give any indication of Johnson's response, or to disclose whether the United States had made any concession to obtain the release of the civilians.

Fatalities

ciated Press survey of deaths during the Aug. 19-22 weekend showed 385 traffic deaths, 67 drownings and 85 violent deaths for miscellaneous causes.

Some safety experts contend the high holiday tolls in recent years can be attributed in part to an inadequate road network to handle the large number of automobiles in operation.

The National Safety Council estimated 60 million motorists were on the highways Sunday afternoon and night in 25 million vehicles.

Wreckage Covers Tracks at Bucyrus

UPPER: A close-up view of some of the wreckage after railroad workers, cranes and bulldozers began the task of moving the debris to the side of the right-of-way to permit start of track replacement and repair.

LOWER: An aerial view of the wreck. Passenger and freight cars are twisted snake-like across the double tracks about four miles west of Bucyrus. The passenger train, the Manhattan Limited, was traveling west (toward top of picture) on righthand tracks when a car on the eastbound freight popped out of line and derailed the passenger, express and mail cars.

Train Wreck

freights were held at points on the PRR route east and west of the accident scene.

Sees Car in Haze

An eyewitness report of the accident was given by G. H. Harris of near Bucyrus, fireman on the passenger train.

"We were running about three minutes ahead of time," he said, "going about 70 miles an hour. We met this freight train and no more than passed its engine when I saw sparks flying. It was kinda hazy out and I saw something on our track.

"I yelled to the engineer (J. D. Kelly, 60, of Fort Wayne) 'Big hole' which is railroad slang for 'slam on the emergency brakes.' I ran back toward the engine room but he didn't make it."

Both Kelly and Harris escaped serious injury in the crash. They were treated and released at Bucyrus City Hospital for bruises and minor cuts.

Railroad and volunteer workers looked at the twisted passenger and mail cars Monday and were amazed that no one was seriously injured or killed in any of the wrecked cars — some almost demolished.

Narrowest escapes possibly were by railroad mail clerks who were working on railway mail cars near the head of the passenger train.

Clarence H. Spangler of Pittsburgh said that the part of the car he normally works in was completely torn out. He was in another part of the car at the time of the crash.

He said that Anson Carpenter, 54, of Orrville, another clerk, was "the lucky boy." Carpenter suffered only a broken ankle even though he was found lying under a part of the deisel locomotive and covered with mail sacks which spewed out of the car in which he had been working.

After the crash, railroad personnel moved fast to see to it that the injured were removed from the passenger cars and the other uninjured passengers were transferred to other special trains in Crestline and Upper Sandusky to continue their trips.

Patrolmen Assist

The state highway patrol office at Bucyrus was notified and immediately sent patrolmen to the wreck scene.

First Sgt. H. T. Cowell was in charge of the 15 patrolmen and approximately 50 patrol auxiliarymen who were called out to patrol the area and set up roadblocks near the wreck. The roadblocks were set up to keep sightseers from hampering the railroad workers clearing away the wreckage and to safeguard the removal of mail and other valuables from the wrecked cars.

Cowell had nothing but praise for "unrehearsed but coordinated" efforts of everyone involved in the removal of passengers, treating of the injured, and maintenance of order at the scene.

Railroad buses, Salvation Army buses, taxicabs and moving vans were used in the task of removing the 170 uninjured passengers, freight and mail from the wreck scene. The injured passengers were removed in ambulances, stationwagons, buses and private cars.

Cpl. D. M. DeWalt of the Marion post of the state patrol was at the wreck scene most of the day Monday in addition to 18 members of the Marion County Highway Patrol Auxiliary.

Local CD Unit Helps

Other units sent from Marion to aid in the task of clearing up the wreckage was the Civil Defense Corps emergency truck which was sent to Bucyrus at 7 p.m. Monday to provide floodlights as railroad workmen struggled to reopen the two torn up lines to traffic.

The Marion Engineer Depot also sent a tank truck of water to the wreck scene early Monday morning to aid in fighting fires which broke out in some of the wrecked cars. Workmen said the fires were caused by sparks from acetelyne torches being used to cut apart two of the cars.

In addition the depot also sent a 5,000 watt portable generator to the scene late Monday to aid in providing power for the floodlights to light the area.

In addition to the state patrolmen and their auxiliarymen, the wreck scene was also patrolled by volunteers from the Bucyrus Civil Air Patrol and by the entire staff of the Crawford County Sheriff's office.

The job of clearing away all the wrecked cars and debris probably will require about three days, Parshall said. Pennsylvania Railroad wreck trains were sent to the scene from Canton, Crestline and Fort Wayne and another was supplied by the Nickel Plate Railroad.

The fire which broke out in some of the wrecked freight and mail cars was still smouldering at 6 p.m. Monday but was under control within an hour and a half after it broke out.

Fire departments from Bucyrus, Nevada, Monnette, New Winchester, Tiro and Holmes-Liberty Township were called to the scene to fight the flames.

List of Injured in Wreck

Thirty persons were injured, none seriously, in the railroad accident west of Bucyrus early Monday morning.

Of the 30, only 4 were held in Bucyrus City Hospital overnight Monday night and hospital spokesmen said they were to be released today.

The four were:

George Krichbaum, 59, PRR postal clerk of near Atwater, Ohio, fractured finger on right hand.

Mrs. Bernice Brafman, 46, of Chicago, shock and possible head injury.

Anson Carpenter, 54, PRR postal clerk of Orrville, fractured ankle.

Claude D. Bailey, 41, PRR mail clerk of near Valencia, Pa., deep cut on forehead.

Another man, Frank Yanick, 69, of Wierton, W. Va. was admitted to the hospital for treatment of nose injuries but was released at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Released After Treatment

A list of the other injured treated and released at Bucyrus City Hospital follows:

Mettie Yanick, 61, Wierton, W. Va., head contusion.

C. R. Ray, 32, Crestline, Ohio, bruises and abrasions.

G. H. Harris, 36, fireman on Manhatton Limited, Rt. 4, Bucyrus, abrasions and bruises

Dr. David Steigmeyer, 29, Fort Wayne, Ind., abrasion on chin and eye trouble.

Christine Maffissi, 44, New Castle Pa., left knee injured

Kevin Ryan, 20, Fort Dix, N. J., back injury.

J. D. Kelly, 60, engineer of the limited, Rt. 2, Ossian, Ind., bruises and abrasions.

Mary Burkevick, 49, Swissvale, Pa., bruises and abrasions.

Homer O'Rourke, 44, PRR postal clerk, Pittsburgh, Pa., bruises and abrasions.

Stella Powell, Cicero, Ill., bruises and abrasions.

Mrs. Fred Williams, 46, Chicago, bruises and abrasions.

Mary Musulin, 26, Pittsburgh, Pa., bruises and abrasions.

Others Injured

C. H. Spangler, 58, PRR postal supervisor, Pittsburgh, Pa., laceration of left side of head.

J. W. Schnoemen, 46, PRR postal clerk, Orrville, Ohio, leg abrasions and bruises.

Mrs. Marshall Campbell, 52, Sparta, Wis., back injury.

Dale Carty, 58, Canton, Ohio, back injuries

Angelina Bastia, 60, Wierton, W. Va., injury to right shoulder.

Lemon Moses, 50, Pittsburgh, Pa., back injury.

Mrs. Elizabeth Strother, 47, Glendale, Calif., left elbow injured; her daughter, Bridgitte, 8, head contusions.

Elizabeth Allie, 36, Milwaukee, Wis., contusion of left eye and fractured thumb.

Four others who were treated and released at Wyandot Memorial Hospital in Upper Sandusky were:

Miss Sylvia Woodson of Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Renn of Wilkinsburg, Pa

Clarence Douglas of Ft. Wayne, Ind

12 Mishaps, 4 Injuries Occur Over Weekend

Twelve accidents were reported in Marion County over the Labor Day weekend. Five persons were injured in the mishaps, which were investigated by city police, the sheriff's office and state patrolmen from the Marion post.

Four injuries in two accidents were investigated by patrolmen Monday. City police investigated two minor accidents Monday. All other mishaps occurred Friday night, Saturday and Sunday.

In addition to the accidents in Marion County investigated by patrolmen over the weekend, officers made 55 arrests and issued 76 warnings.

4 Hurt in Collision

Four persons were injured in one of two accidents investigated Monday in Marion County by state highway patrolmen.

The injury accident occurred at 10:45 p.m. on Route 95 about two miles east of LaRue, as a westbound car driven by Harley Toombs Jr., 24, of 136 Latourette St. was attempting to pass another westbound car driven by Robert H. Wallace, 45, of Ridgeway.

Both cars went out of control, with the Wallace car going into the left ditch and damaging six posts of the guard rail, and the Toombs car going into the right ditch where it overturned. It damaged a route marker sign, six fence posts and about 40 feet of farm fence.

The left rear of the Wallace car and the right front end of the Toombs car were badly damaged, patrolmen said.

Injured were Helen Wallace of near Ridgeway, a passenger in the Wallace car, who sustained bruises of the right leg and hip but was not treated; and Toombs, who sustained body bruises and abrasions; David Schroll, 39, of 171 St. Clair St., who sustained abrasions of the right leg and lacerations of the right arm; and David Toombs, 22, of 564 Uncapher Ave., who sustained abrasions and contusions of the body.

The injured were taken by patrolmen and the Ford ambulance of LaRue to Marion General Hospital where they were treated and released.

Harley Toombs Jr was arrested by patrolmen on a charge of failing to stop within an assured clear distance and will appear in Municipal Court at a later date.

The other accident occurred at 7:45 p.m. on Route 30-S at its intersection with Route 746.

A car which failed to stop was backing across Route 30-S from Route 746 when it struck the left rear fender of a car driven west on Route 30-S by Mary A. Reed of Martel.

Minor damage resulted to the Reed car, and no one was injured.

Two Accidents in City

Two minor traffic accidents were investigated Monday by city police.

One occurred on St Prospect St. at Thew Ave. at 3 p.m. and resulted in damage to both vehicles. A car driven by D. R. Yocom, 59, of 388 Pearl St. was struck in the rear by another car driven by Robert Ellis Floyd, 21, of Upper Sandusky. Floyd was arrested on a charge of following too closely.

The other accident occurred on W. Center St. and Garden St. at 9:25 a.m. It involved cars driven by Robert J. Dempsey, 21, of Lockbourne Air Force Base Columbus, and Donna M. Clark of 128 DeWolfe Ct. The impact of the crash drove the Clark car over the curb and into a lamp post in front of 346 W. Center St.

Man Hurt in Collision

A 27-year-old Marionite was injured in a collision of a motor bike and automobile today, police reported.

Alva Orr Jr. of 392 Oak St suffered a compound fracture of his right arm and right ankle and body bruises when the bike he was riding was struck by the car at Tyler and Van Buren Sts. at 11:15 a.m.

Police reported that Orr, traveling south on Tyler, and the car, driven by Dale Bachelder, 46, of Prospect and headed east on Van Buren, collided at the intersection

The car went into a ditch on the south side of Van Buren St. following the collision, police reported. Orr and the bicycle were apparently pushed into the ditch on the bumper of the car, police said. The bike was demolished.

Orr was taken to Marion General Hospital in a Schaffner-Denzer ambulance for treatment.

School

attend Mass at 8:15 then begin classes.

Cafeterias in the city schools will be open Thursday, with the exception of the four new ones at Vernon, Silver St., Glenwood and Oakland Schools. They will be opened as soon as workers finish their construction.

Full-day classes will start Thursday and will continue until the end of the school year.

A citywide meeting of all teachers in the city schools will be held Wednesday afternoon at Harding High School. This will be followed by principal-teacher meetings at each of the public schools.

Bicycle Stolen

Theft of his bicycle from in front of the State Theater was reported to city police by Bernard Starling of 885 Adams St. today.

Eisenhower

ual takes on the top man and wins. he (the individual) grows But when you make a frontal assault, if you lose you are through. And that is what happened on this issue."

McCarthy, at Appleton, Wis., Monday night replied.

"I don't believe it is a choice between destroying Ike by a frontal assault and rubber stamping and approving every mistake the administration makes.

"I feel that regardless of what success is had on what Nixon called a frontal assault, every senator has a duty to expose incompetence and wrongdoing in government regardless of which party is at fault—and that I intend to continue doing."

As for Eisenhower running again, the President himself told a Washington news conference early in August that the state of his health next year would be a major factor in making up his mind.

So, newsmen asked the vice president yesterday: How is Eisenhower's health?

"I have never seen the President look better," Nixon replied. "I feel that he is in tip-top shape physically and mentally in his attitude toward his job."

Has Become Easier

And the job, Nixon added, "has become easier" for the President "the longer he is in it." He said the President has it so well organized that he now can turn over secondary problems to aides and concentrate personally "on the great and important issues."

On related political matters, Nixon said:

1. The Democratic presidential nomination contest, at this point "looks like a horse race" between Adlai Stevenson, the party's standard bearer in 1952; Gov. Averell Harriman of New York; and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee

Kefauver, said Nixon, has been "consistently underestimated" by the professional politicians. He predicted that in his own state of California, Kefauver could win next year's Democratic presidential primary "easily— hands down" over Stevenson and Harriman.

2. The "most difficult" issue for the Republicans in 1956 will be defense of the administration's farm program because farm prices have been falling. But Nixon voiced confidence they will stabilize soon.

3. The Democratic presidential nominee will have no choice but to run on the record of former President Truman, or split the party.

Eisenhower Schedules Physical Fitness Parley

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today called a conference here to chart ways of solving "a serious problem"—how to build the physical fitness of America's youth.

Vice President Nixon will preside at the meeting Sept. 27-28 at Eisenhower's vacation headquaiters at Lowry Air Force Base.

The conference will bring together about 80 persons from such fields as sports, education and government. It will follow up a luncheon which Eisenhower gave in Washington last July 11 to get the ball rolling.

Senators

"The world has seen, under United States policies of the last three years, a distinct contribution to peace and the prospects of future peace. If Stevenson or any other Democrat wants to attack those policies, he will find himself on unsound ground."

Stevenson said Eisenhower's 1953 talk of "unleashing" Chinese Nationalists on Formosa for a possible attack on the Red China mainland "shook our alliances and invited war in the Formosa Strait . . ."

Stevenson's criticism of Eisenhower's record on agriculture was in a letter to Henry Snow, at whose Kasson, Minn., farm both Stevenson and Eisenhower made campaign speeches in 1952.

"Since that day three years ago," Stevenson said, "the farm situation has steadily worsened under an administration that embraces flexible price supports while maintaining distressing rigidity of mind."

Butler also messaged Snow, accusing Eisenhower of having falsely promised the farmers' government price supports at 90 per cent of parity—the legally determined fair price standard.

Kenton Firm Wins Contract for Ditch

The Kentor firm of Elsasser and Weber was awarded a contract this morning on their bid of $6,112 for the improvement of the Gray and Blood Run Ditch near LaRue in Montgomery Township.

Marion County commissioners reported they received one other bid on the project, which was petitioned for by Maurice C. Clements of LaRue. The other bidder was C. C. Plumley of Marion who submitted a bid of $6,347.

The bids were opened by commissioners this morning. The work is expected to start by Sept. 19 and is to be completed by Nov. 19.

Eohippus, an early ancestor of the horse 45 million years ago was about the size of a large tomcat.

Traffic Cases

Eight persons were fined a total of $205 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Saturday.

Heaviest of the fines was one for $100 and costs levied against a Marion driver for drunken driving. Billy Price, 26, of 814 Silver St. was also sentenced to five days in the county jail and given a three years' suspension of his driving rights after he pleaded guilty to the charge.

The remaining seven drivers were each fined $15 and costs on various charges. Fined on speeding charges were Elbert Phillips, 33, of Newland, N. C., Francis Diamond, 39, of Detroit, Mich., Moses Hairston, 32, of Columbus and B. H. Rose, 27, of Columbus.

Two others were fined for crossing over the yellow line. They were Wayne Dawson, 22, of 400 N. Main St. and W. A. Walborn, 36, of Worthington.

A. A. Vance, 23, of 263 Clinton St. was fined for passing without an assured clear distance ahead.

Two drivers were given suspended fines. They were J. T. Boxwell, 19, of near Marion, on a no muffler charge, and George Yake, 16, of near Waldo for illegal parking on the highway.

District Traffic Cases

Four persons were arrested Monday in Morrow County by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Rex. J. McPeek, 25, of Mount Gilead, was given a citation to appear Thursday before Acting Mayor Dewitt Hunt of Mount Gilead on a charge of unsafe operation.

John H. Rogers, 24, of Cincinnati, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Don Healea of Cardington on a charge of passing over a yellow line.

Leo L. Prince, 30, of Mansfield, was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Healea on a charge of not having turn signals on his truck.

Roosevelt Varnado, 52, of Warren, was fined $20 and costs on a charge of unsafe operation when he appeared before Mayor Healea.

Fined for Traffic Tickets

A Marion County man was fined a total of $3 and costs on a traffic ticket charge in Marion Municipal Court Saturday.

Clyde Kegley of near Marion pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to pay three traffic tickets.

place except at marked crosswalks and if at all possible only where street lights exist. Children also should be urged to obey instructions of school patrolmen at those intersections where the patrolmen are stationed, Coon said.

TO HELP INSURE that the boys and girls practice safety in going to and from school, parents should make a habit of observing safe walking and driving rules at all times. Children cannot be expected to obey rules they observe their parents and other adults violate.

Children who ride bikes to school should be cautioned to observe all safety rules, to signal all turns and stops, ride only in the street but as close as possible to the right-hand curb, never ride double and always ride in single file, Coon said.

The police chief had another word of caution to the motorists —just because the speed limit in school zones is 20 miles an hour, every driver is not required to drive at this speed. There are times when a still slower speed is prudent, for example when the streets are slippery with rain, snow or ice, he said. The 20-mile speed limit merely is the top legal speed in school zones.

said the man "acts and talks like an American." He added:

"The Russians probably knew more about him than we do at this point and they don't make mistakes on such things."

Army doctors said a preliminary examination indicated the two soldiers are slightly underweight but in "fair" condition. The doctors withheld further details until completion of a thorough checkup.

Army spokesmen said it was presumed all three had been held in various slave labor camps for the past seven years.

All three are scheduled to be screened by Army's interrogators after several days medical treatment.

In view of military intelligence work by Cumish, officials were anxious to learn what he might have told the Russians during his captivity.

Authorities also planned to question the three about other missing Americans, especially soldiers who have disappeared from Berlin in recent years.

Boy Bitten by Dog

A three-year-old Michigan boy, visiting the Robert Everett family near Marion, was treated for dog bites on his face Monday morning at Marion General Hospital, the sheriff's office reported.

Steven Perry, 3, of Portland, Mich., was bitten about the face by a dog.

Work

that only those that can be handled in a medium-security institution are sent there. That takes a lot of time."

Malcolm Geddis, the division's classification officer, is working on selection of prisoners who will be sent here. By the first of next year, the training school's population should be up to 500 men.

Men sent to Marion will be able to work in a chair factory, sheet metal shop or a garment factory. E. B. Haskins, assistant division chief, is setting up the shops. Supervisors probably will come from other penal institutions. The first prisoners to be sent to Marion will include some men with experience in those trades so they can help get the shops started.

The plans to increase Marion's capacity to 1,500 inmates includes construction of farm buildings and a new honor dormitory. There prisoners will learn farm work and produce some of their own food.

Will Reduce Overcrowding

When fully occupied, the school will help reduce overcrowding at Ohio Penitentiary. That prison at the end of August had 4,929 inmates, compared with a record 5,235 last April 27.

The total in all Ohio penal institutions at the end of last month was 10,409; the high was 10,580 last June 20. The total Jan. 15, 1950, was only 8,850. It passed the 10,000 mark last Oct. 15.

Ohio Penitentiary's population has dropped—for the first time in 10 months—for two reasons. County courts are not in session and sentencing criminals, and some inmates have been transferred to other institutions.

Raging Forest Fires Threaten Giant Sequoias

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Destructive waves of flames threatened two priceless redwood groves today as raging forest fires blazed out of control in northern and central California.

More than 1,500 fire fighters battled flames whipping through the Sequoia National Forest in the Sierra Nevada east of Fresno More than 7,000 acres were already blackened Damage was estimated at more than $650 000

The crackling flames reached within a mile of the famed General Grant redwood, the world's largest tree and possibly the oldest living thing on earth Its age has been calculated at more than 3,000 years

In the northern section of the state, between 17 000 and 18 000 acres were aflame in Humboldt County.

Fire fighters fought to save Rockefeller Grove, one of the few remaining stands of virgin redwood

A brush and forest fire was finally brought under control in Lake County, about 100 miles north of San Francisco after more than 200 persons were forced to evacuate their homes in the Whispering Pines resort area

The Fresno County communities of Hume Lake and Grant Grove were evacuated from the path of the Sequoia National Forest fire

Miss America Hopefuls Meet In Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N J. (AP) — They're here and they're ready for battle. Forty-nine lovelies from throughout the nation primped today with their sights set on the Miss America 1956 crown and the host of prizes that go with it

An illuminated parade—with 80 floats, 27 bands and a fleet of cars —officially opens the pageant tonight The public will get its first glimpse of the contestants then

But first the beauty queen hopefuls were slated to pose in swim suits for newsreel, television and newspaper photographers And then comes a round of rehearsals to prepare the girls for the pageant parade.

Wednesday night will begin preliminary swimsuit, evening gown and talent competitions. They will last for three evenings.

With the field narrowed to 10 semifinalists by Saturday night, judges then select five finalists, and finally a new Miss America will be crowned before a nationwide television audience.

The current queen, Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, will crown her successor, who also reaps a $50,000 harvest in prizes and personal appearance fees

Charmers from all of the states except New Mexico, Wyoming and Washington are competing, along with girls from Chicago, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Canada.

Service Club Plans Charity Ball Saturday

The 20-30 International Service Club of Marion will sponsor an informal dance 'Summer Finale," Saturday night at the Hi-Way Rollarena just east of the Marion city limits

The affair is set to begin at 10 30 and music for dancing will be by the "Modernaires Septet" a new Marion orchestra which features Damon Carey on the tenor saxophone Carey most recently led the Skyliners, a Central Ohio group

Proceeds from the dance will go into the club's charity fund and in future months will be dispersed into local charity projects

The 20-30 International Service Club has been very active in charity work locally since its organization four years ago. It is a branch of a large international service organization for young men between the ages of 20 and 30 years of age

Tickets for the dance will be available at the Rollarena Saturday night and also may be obtained from any club member

What do these famous products have to do with Marion

One of the "Quakers" in Marion, Mary Mann, says: "Teamwork means a lot to us here at Quaker Oats. By making quality products as efficiently as possible we not only give our customers better foods at a lower cost, but it also means money in our pockets. The Quaker profit sharing plan pays us extra income out of company profits."

...besides provide good breakfasts—quick?

MANY folks here in this community work for the Quaker Oats Company. It's known far and wide for lots of famous products, including Quaker Oats and Mother's Oats.

You can't help noticing a feeling of pride in people who work for the Company. Not only in what they help produce, but in all Quaker products. It's a family pride. They like the idea of living up to past tradition and moving ahead with the times, too. (A good formula for any business, wouldn't you say?)

New Quaker oatmeal is smoother than ever. There's an extra creaminess that especially appeals to children. And the high-protein content supplies needed strength and energy for busy days at school. Good news for mother—cooking time has been cut to a quick minute.

As you enjoy these cereals, you'll share some of the pride your neighbors have in all Quaker Oats Company products.

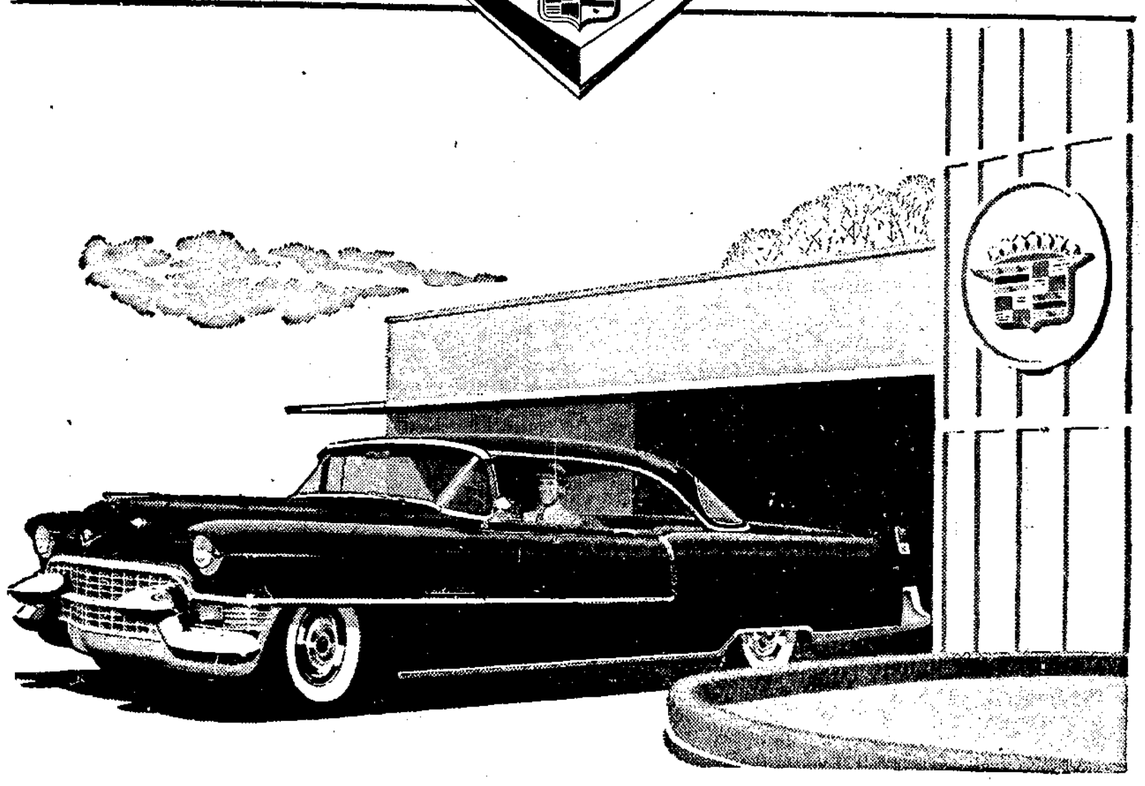
Cadillac



No Doubt In His Mind This Time!

This happy gentleman has just taken title to his seventh motor car.

And while he would probably have difficulty recalling all the different makes and models he has purchased through the years, there is one thing he knows with absolute certainty: He never felt like this before when he took the keys and made for the open road.

For this is his first Cadillac! And what a glorious feeling it is to know he has chosen the "car of cars"!

Gone are the doubt . . . and the worry . . . and the wonder. This time he knows he's right!

And how quickly the evidence will assemble in support of his sentiment!

First of all, there will be the eloquent testimony of the car itself—its magnificent performance . . . its marvelous comfort and ride . . . and its incredible ease of steering and handling.

And then, as he travels the boulevard, there will be those quick glances of approval from his fellow motorists to tell him that he is not alone in his judgment.

And, finally, there will be that assembly of family and friends that awaits him at journey's end . . . offering final confirmation of the wisdom of his choice.

Of course, the man who takes title to a new Cadillac today enjoys the double satisfaction of having made the wisest possible choice at the wisest possible time.

Because of Cadillac's increased year-end production, for instance, he will find that he can have surprisingly prompt delivery on his new Cadillac.

And, as if this were not sufficient in itself, we are also in a position—because of our low inventory of used cars—to offer him a most generous allowance on his present automobile.

Why not come in soon—and spend an hour at the wheel—and let us acquaint you more fully with this unique opportunity?

Indians Retain Slim Lead After Split With Athletics

Chicago, New York Divide; Boston Picks Up Full Game

By The Associated Press

The Big Three in the American League race have been knotted up so long they don't know how to cut loose even when they get the chance.

They had their chances in the Labor Day double-headers, but only fourth-place Boston whooped it up, sweeping Washington 10-2 and 7-2. Cleveland, New York and Chicago split in their twin bills with the second division.

After sweeping into first place by taking three straight from the White Sox, Cleveland misfired and lost the first game to Kansas City 5-4 before winning 9-2. New York was carried 11 innings by Baltimore, then dumped 6-5 in the opener. The Yanks won the nightcap 5-3.

Chicago was rapped by Detroit 7-2, then rebounded 3-0.

Score Nears Record

Herb Score, the Cleveland Indians' young southpew, is practically a cinch to get eight more strikeouts in his first major league season and break a 44-year-old record.

The 22-year-old pitcher, up from Indianapolis in the American Assn. fanned 11 Monday to move his league-leading total to 220. The record for strikeouts by a rookie pitcher is 227, set by Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1911.

Bob Feller holds the modern record for all pitchers with 348 strikeouts in 1946, but Feller fanned only 76 in 1936, his first year with Cleveland.

Score's 9-2 victory over Kansas City Monday was his 15th against 10 losses.

With 17 games left, Score should get at least three more starting assignments.

Yesterday's 9-2 victory over Kansas City was Score's second straight complete game and gave the Indians a split in the doubleheader and enabled them to hold first place.

His earned run average is 3.06, second only to Early Wynn's 2.97 among Indian starters.

Score had a two-hit shutout going into the ninth inning, but Gus Zernial singled and Hector Lopez homered for the A's two runs. Eleven hits, including successive home runs by Larry Doby and Al Rosen gave Cleveland the victory.

Doby Hits Homer

Doby also hit a three-run homer in the opener, tying the game at 4-4 in the sixth inning. The Athletics scored the winning run in the ninth, on two singles off Don Mossi, and a sacrifice fly off Jose Santiago, the fourth Indian pitcher. Sal Maglie retired the final batter.

Feller started the opener, but left in the fifth inning after giving up three runs on nine hits. Art Houtteman followed, but wildness retired him after one inning. He walked two, then threw wild to first trying for a pick-off, allowing a run to score.

The Indians leave tonight for an eight-day, nine-game eastern road trip. They had a 12-6 record in their home stand.

All that treadmill work left the Big Three right where they started: the Indians lead the Yanks by half a game and the White Sox by 1½. But the ever-persistent Red Sox now are right back in the picture, just 1½ behind Chicago.

By contrast, Brooklyn reduced its magic number to 3 as the Dodgers swept Philadelphia 11-4 and 8-2. Any combination of Brooklyn victories and Milwaukee defeats totaling 3 returns the National League pennant to Ebbets Field. The twin triumph gave the Dodgers 90 victories—and a 15-game lead.

The Orioles eluded the Yanks with a run that scored on an interference call against Gil McDougald. Jim Wilson went all the way for his ninth victory. Two other Baltimore runs scored when Umpire John Rice ruled outfielder Hank Bauer had trapped, not caught, a low liner in the sixth. And the Orioles got three in the first on a single and five walks.

Tommy Byrne, who started the first game and left in the opening frame, came back to win the nightcap in 4 1-3 relief innings. Baltimore made five boots while outhitting the Yanks 11 to 7.

Chicago was dead in the first inning of the opener. The Tigers smacked across four runs as starter Virgil Trucks failed to last the inning. Ray Bone homered and doubled for three runs while Billy Hoeft won his 15th. Bob Keegan, who last 5 2-3 innings to get the decision, and Billy Pierce combined for the shutout in the afterpiece. Chicago had just four hits from rookie Frank Lary, but made the best of a walk and a hit batsman.

Red Sox Take Two

The Bostons breezed in with Jimmy Piersall driving in two with a home run and making three brilliant stabs in the outfield as Tom Brewer won his 10th in the first game Jackie Jensen's two-run homer wrapped up the second game in the sixth inning. It was George Susce's eighth victory.

Don Newcombe won No. 20 for the Brooks in the opener, hammering his seventh home run with two on for a National League record for pitchers. Del Ennis clipped Newk for a three-run homer in the ninth.

Carl Erskine gained his 100th major league victory on the fifth try in the second game as the Brooks chased Robin Roberts.

Milwaukee split with Chicago. The Cubs won the first 2-0 on Sam Jones' five-hitter. The Braves won the second 1-0 with an unearned run and a three-hit job by Ray Crone.

New York's Giants, the '54 champs, officially fell from the race in a split with Pittsburgh, losing 8-6 in 10 innings before

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fran Rogel, ex-Penn State star who plays fullback for the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers, has no trouble keeping in condition. He was in tiptop shape when he reported for training camp this year. In the off season, Rogel operates a farm near here.

Reds Return Home in Tie For 5th Spot

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs returned home today after a disastrous road trip which made a second division berth all but a certainty.

The faltering, failing and fumbling Reds could pick up only six victories in 17 road games. That dumped them into a tie for fifth place with the Chicago Cubs, five games behind the fourth place Philadelphians. Only 13 more games are on the Reds' and Cubs' schedules.

Philadelphia will provide the opposition in Crosley Field tomorrow night and Thursday afternoon. New York, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh then will make their final appearances here.

Cincinnati's last road game was again filled with frustration. The Reds, trailing the St. Louis Cardinals 2-0 in the ninth, tied the score to send the Busch Stadium contest into overtime yesterday. Starter Tom Poholsky had walked Chuck Harmon and yielded a single to Roy McMillan With two away the righthander pitched two balls to Johnny Temple and then had to depart from the game because of heat exhaustion. Reliefer Tom Wright completed the walk to fill the bases. Another reliefer, Luis Arroyo, offered Smoky Burgess what he wanted and the ball was slammed to the right field wall for a two-run single.

Ted Kluszewski, who hasn't been effective in recent weeks with men on base, missed the opportunity to put the Reds out in front by lining out.

In the 10th, with rookie Don Gross on the mound, Ken Boyer singled advanced to third on Stan Musial's fourth hit of the day, and scored on Rip Repulski's single to left-center for the winning run. Gross' record dipped to 3-4. Taking credit for the victory was Al Gettel, a recent addition from the Pacific Coast League for his first decision of the season. He pitched two-thirds of an inning.

Four Red pitchers gave up 15 hits. No Redleg came up with more than one single.

Montreal Nails Flag; Columbus Seventh in IL

By The Associated Press

It will be the champion Montreal Royals against fourth place Rochester and runner-up Toronto meeting the third-place Havana Sugar Kings tomorrow in the International League playoffs.

The Royals clinched the flag by knocking over Rochester twice in a Labor Day doubleheader yesterday 6-0 and 4-2. For the new champs, this marks the 15th time in 16 years that they have made the playoffs. Their last pennant-winning season was 1952.

The Maple Leafs, who lost a chance to tie because of a rained out game, played it to the hilt, taking a pair of tight games from Buffalo 5-3 and 2-1. But the effort was in vain as Montreal finished its drive in true championship style, winning its last nine games.

The last place Richmond Virginians swept a twin-bill from the Cubans. After a 6-1 victory in the opener, Richmond put on a show in the eighth inning of the nightcap—their last time at bat this season. Trailing 4-1, they slammed over eight runs for a 9-4 triumph.

Syracuse and Columbus made a hasty exit from the scene, completing their single encounter won by the Jets 6-2, in one hour and 25 minutes.

Giants' Ace Reinstated After Short Suspension

NEW YORK (AP) —Johnny Antonelli, ace southpaw pitcher of the New York Giants, is back in the good graces of manager Leo Durocher after a one-day suspension.

Antonelli, suspended "indefinitely" without pay and sent home for "insubordination" after Saturday night's game in Philadelphia, talked with Durocher for 20 minutes Monday. Then Durocher announced he had lifted the suspension.

Antonelli had sounded off at Durocher after being relieved in Saturday's game.

Two Teams Post 121

Country Club's Tourney Ends With First Place Tie

A two-way tie for top honors in the annual 36-hole best ball golf tournament staged annually over the Labor Day weekend at the Marion Country Club developed yesterday as team entries completed their play.

Warren Rowley and Carl Sheehe, who completed their 36 hole play Sunday with a 121 score, were tied yesterday by the twosome of Paul Hunt and John Waddell. They fired 60 over the first 18 holes Sunday, then went around in 61 yesterday for net score of 121.

Tied for the next spot were the teams of Joe Whalen and Jack Jones and Don Yoder and Jack Taft. Both teams had 123 scores.

In fifth spot was Wayne Jenkins and Bob Graham with a net score of 124. Bob O'Connell and Stanley Franks, with a 127 tally, ranked next while five teams tied for seventh.

Posting 128 scores were the twosomes of John Rife and Jack Vornholt, J. B. Bray Sr. and Jack Bray Jr., Leo Groll and John Pickerel, Bob Mason and Harold Grigsby, and R. T. Lewis and Bill Higham.

Batting Contest In NL Remains Two-Man Race

NEW YORK (AP) —It looks as if the National League batting race will go right down to the wire again.

Last season Willie Mays of the New York Giants edged teammate Don Mueller and Brooklyn's Duke Snider on the final day.

This year's race is between Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phils and Brooklyn's Roy Campanella. Ashburn currently leads the Dodgers' catcher by two points—.333 to .331.

Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski, the home run leader with 44, ranks third with 317, followed by Snider at .314 and the Dodgers' Carl Furillo at .313.

Al Kaline of Detroit is the American League batting leader. The 20-year-old outfielder is hitting .348. Harry Simpson of Kansas City is his nearest pursuer at .317.

Vic Power of the A's holds down third place with a .313 average, one point ahead of Cleveland's Al Smith. The Yanks' Mickey Mantle, the home run pace-setter with 37, is tied for fifth with Detroit's Harvey Kuenn and Baltimore's Dave Philley. Each is hitting .307.

Golfers Begin Rich Tourney In New Jersey

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J. (AP) — The Cavalcade of Golf — the East's biggest money tournament—begins today at the Shackamaxon Country Club with 84 golfers competing in the qualifying round for the $50,000 event.

About half of today's competitors will qualify to meet some of the nation's top pro and amateur golfers in the first round of the tournament, which gets under way Thursday.

Some 60 top golfers — including Jack Fleck, U. S. open champ; Cary Middlecoff, winner of the Masters and Julius Boros, 1955 Tam O'Shanter winner — are scheduled to participate.

Competitors will shoot 18 holes a day through next Saturday with the winner taking the $10,000 top prize.

Snead Nails Spot With Ryder Team

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Sammy Snead let the "other fellows make the mistakes" and today he had his berth on the U.S. Ryder Cup team plus $4,000.

Sam won the $20,000 Insurance City Open golf tournament Monday with a 15-under par 269 for 72 holes The victory assured Snead for the fifth straight time, a place on the team which plays Great Britain.

Snead ended seven strokes up on runners-up Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N. Y., and Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill.

Sam Kellerlring of Toronto, who was only four strokes behind Snead at the end of the third round, wound up in a tie for fourth with Julius Boros with 278.

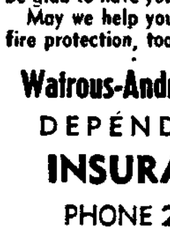
ACROSS THE COUNTER

After buying an apartment house property and "assuming" the fire insurance, Bill Jones looked over the policy. He was disturbed. The way the coverage was distributed between the building and the contents didn't seem right. So he visited our office.



Earl J. Andrews

"I suppose," Mr. Jones said, "that this policy has to remain this size."

"No," I replied, "it can easily be changed. Right now."

A surprised look crept across Mr. Jones' face. "Honest," he said. "I thought an insurance policy was like a pair of shoes — a certain fixed size."

"On the contrary," I said, "a fire policy is more like a piece of string. We can tie on lots of additional coverage, snip off any desired amount, or twist it to provide protection against other hazards. It is extremely flexible."

"Well!" Mr. Jones said, "I'm pleased to know that. Let's review this policy then. I'll show you what I had in mind, and I'll be glad to have your suggestions."

May we help you find the right fire protection, too?

Ohio Dogs Take Two Top Spots in Leafy Oak Trials

BUCYRUS — A four-year-old Ohio hound dog copped top honors in the 28th annual Leafy Oak Coon Dog Field Trial Labor Day at Seccaium Park near Bucyrus.

Golden Glow, owned by I. B. Baker of Norwich, O., was first tree winner and walked off with $650 in prize money for his master.

Yesterday's final, in which 19 dogs ran, climaxed three days of elimination heats. A total of 675 dogs from 19 states participated in the nationally-known trial.

Another Ohio dog was first line dog. Yellow Jacket, a five-year-old part greyhound, part police dog owned by Red Rose of Bowling Green, won $550 in prize money for his finish. It was the dog's sixth first-line win.

Second tree winner was Scatterbrain, owned by Janice and Rziczneh of New Castle, Pa., while Black Powder, owned by Edward Fonchouse of Syracuse, N. Y., and Stu Planch of Columbus, was second line dog.

An estimated 8,000 persons watched the three-day event.

Skipper, owned by K. J. Williams of Bucyrus, made the best showing among the area dogs. It was first-line winner in a preliminary junior heat but it failed to qualify in the semi-finals.

Hazen Boosts Bond to $50 in Traffic Cases

Bonds for appearances in Marion Municipal Court on minor traffic violations will be $50 effective today.

Judge W. Dexter Hazen, in announcing the change, said it was made in an effort to prevent out-of-town drivers from failing to appear in court.

Previously, bonds for routine traffic offenses were $35 and many out-of-town drivers had forfeited them rather than return for a court appearance, Judge Hazen said. He pointed out that by failing to appear in court and forfeiting the bonds, out-of-town drivers' licenses were not marked with traffic offenses, whereas local drivers had their licenses marked.

The question of raising the bond has been under study for some time, Judge Hazen explained today. He has notified the city police, state highway patrol and sheriff's department of the change.

Thomas Is Winner Of 500 Mile Race

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP)—Herb Thomas of Sanford, N.C., is making the Southern 500-mile stock car race his personal showcase.

Thomas came from behind in the sixth annual race to win Monday before an overflow crowd estimated at 50,000. He averaged 92.281 miles an hour, winning $6,700 in prize money and taking hundreds more in $10-a-lap leadership.

The 1951, '53 and '54 national champion of the National Assn. for Stock Car Automobile Racing also won last year and in 1951.

Red Cross Meets Goal For Flood Relief Fund

Residents of Marion County contributed $1,761.23 toward the American Red Cross flood relief fund, helping the national campaign to meet and exceed the goal.

Louis B. Conkle, chairman of the Marion County chapter, received word Monday from national headquarters that the $10 million fund for flood relief in the eastern states has been subscribed.

Although the local chapter will not be asking for contributions, officials will accept any money individuals or groups would like to donate, Conkle said.

Damage Suit Is Filed

A damage suit asking $10,000 from the Marion Yellow Cab, Inc. of 151 N. State St., has been filed by Lewis Fenton of 337 E. Mark St. in Common Pleas Court.

In his petition, Fenton alleges that his wife, Mabel, was struck and injured by a cab on Sept. 21, 1953 as she was crossing E. Center St. from the southeast corner to the northeast corner of State St.

She was knocked down to the ground and sustained injuries to her leg, knee, head, spine, and neck, the petition alleges. The law firm of Moore and Myers is representing Fenton in this action.

Police Report Hub Caps Stolen From Two Cars

Theft of hub caps from two cars were reported to city police over the weekend.

James Brunfield of 386 Waterloo St. notified police yesterday at 11 a.m. that someone had stolen a hub cap from his car parked in the drive of his home sometime Sunday night.

David Baxter of near Radnor told police Sunday at 11:05 p.m. that someone had stolen two hub caps off the front wheels of his car and headlight rims while it was parked at the rear of Cussin and Fearns that night.

Marion Man Wounded

Ben Dowell, 39, of the Werley Hotel told police he was wounded by an unidentified man while walking on W. Center St. at 7 p.m. Monday. He was cut on his arm, apparently with a razor. He told police he didn't see the person who attacked him. He was treated at General Hospital.

TAKE FIVE. Casey Stengel, New York Yankees manager, clenches firsts and argues point with umpire John Fraherty in first inning of Washington game at Yankee Stadium Sunday. After Yanks' pitcher walked first two batters, Casey headed toward plate to tell Flaherty what he thought about his calls on balls and strikes. Result—the Yankee pilot was thumbed out of the park.

Graham Takes First Practice

CLEVELAND (AP)—"If you think I'm not tickled to have him back you're crazy," said Coach Paul Brown as he watched Otto Graham go through his first 1955 workout with the Cleveland Browns yesterday.

Graham, veteran quarterback who agreed to come back to the Browns last Saturday, weighed 211 and dropped three pounds in an hour-long workout.

"We'll be able to use some things we haven't tried much so far this season," said Brown, looking forward to Saturday night's exhibition against the Detroit Lions in Cleveland Stadium.

100 Attend Picnic At Children's Home

An estimated 100 persons attended the picnic given by boys and girls of the Marion County Children's Home for children from the county and their parents Saturday.

Games and pony and horse riding preceded a ride on a wagon to a pasture at the rear of the Children's Home for a wiener roast.

The picnic was held as a means of thanking county residents for aiding the child welfare program at the home.

International Harvester Co., Union Resume Talks

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiators for the International Harvester Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers Unions today planned to meet again in an effort to settle a two-week-old strike.

The participants Friday took a holiday recess and scheduled their next session for 1 p.m. E.S.T. today.

They have been unable to reach a settlement of a dispute over demands that include wage increases, layoff pay and other readjustments.

The strike of 40,000 unionists began Aug. 23 at 18 plants in six states — Illinois, Indiana, California, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Ohio.

Toledo Misses Opportunity To Reach Playoffs

By The Associated Press

It took a coin flip to decide semi-final opponents in the American Association playoffs.

As a result, the best-of-seven series will open Wednesday night with Denver at Minneapolis and Louisville at Omaha. Louisville and Denver wound up the regular season in a third place tie, necessitating the toss.

The Denver Bears tripped Omaha's second place Cardinals, 5-4, in their Labor Day finale. Both clubs moved up from the Western League this season.

Charleston's tail - end Senators spoiled a chance for the Louisville Colonels to deadlock with Omaha. Louisville won their opener, 5-3 but bowed, 4-3, in a second game.

Toledo finished two games out of the first division by dividing with Indianapolis, and Minneapolis' pennant winners split with twin city rival St. Paul. The Indians copped the first game at Toledo, 3-2, and the Sox rebounded, 2-1, in a 12-inning afterpiece. In a home-and-home set, the Saints stung Minneapolis, 10-6, in the forenoon and the Millers triumphed, 5-1, in the afternoon.

Feature Race Won By Angel Sunday

Don Angel of Miami, Fla., won the feature event at the Marion Speedway Sunday afternoon, edging Bill Sturgeon of Upper Sandusky, Bill England of Marion and Paul Wifley of LaRue finished third and fourth respectively.

Chuck Frost of Marion copped the first race of the afternoon with Carl Heffelfinger of Upper Sandusky second and Angel third.

Angel took the second race with Sturgeon and Frost in the next two spots. Racing will continue at the local track as long as weather permits. Gates open each Sunday at 1 p.m., with the first race scheduled for 3 p.m.

Northwestern Seeks To Better Last Year's Standing in Big 10

(Jerry Liska, Associated Press midwest sports editor, is making an airplane tour of Big Ten and Notre Dame football camps. This is the first of his series previewing the coming season).

By JERRY LISKA

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) —Northwestern's football Wildcats lost seven of nine games last season and subsequently the head of coach Bob Voigts rolled under the alumni's axe.

This fall, new coach Lou Saban — with a hair's breath more luck —may have what the ill-fated Voights rightfully should have had in 1954: a good, respectable Big Ten season.

Saban, former captain and defensive star back of the Cleveland Browns, will unwrap one of the finest Northwestern sophomore crops in years.

This will bolster a fair array of seasoned performers, including three tested quarterbacks — Jack Ellis, Dale Pienta and John Rearden.

Injuries harassed the quarterbacking of the 1954 Northwestern team which lost by one touchdown to the nation's No. 1 team, Ohio State, and powerful Michigan, and bowed only 12-7 to Southern California.

If just one of the Ellis-Pienta-Rearden trio catches fire and stays healthy, Saban may have a first division contender.

There were times last season Northwestern uncorked the best line play in the conference and two of the Wildcat 1954 best up front are back. They are tackles Sanford Sacks, 225-pound team captain, and 250-pound John Smith.

Northwestern's attack under Saban's regular T formation may prove swift and effective. Pienta, Ellis and Rearden all pass well. The aerial game will be backed by good running from seasoned backs Jim Troglio, Frank Jeske and Wayne Glassman.

A lad who may provide real ball-carrying zip is Jerry Weber, a fiery competitor from 1953 who missed last season. Prominent sophomore backs are Ollie Lindborg, a former marine with breakaway speed; Dick Widmark, Norm Comer and Jim Thompson.

Veterans Fred Nosal and Jack Stillwell are the probable starting ends. The guards are a problem with Al Viola, 23 - year - old exmarine sophomore, and letterman John Lohbauer getting first call. Ted Ringer is the only experienced center.

Through the first dozen men, Northwestern will match any team in the Big Ten. It's up to Saban to solve Northwestern's perennial problem — how to keep from running out of horses.

(Next—Notre Dame).

Marion Man's Car Wins in Minnesota

A sports car owned by a Marion man won the 50-lap Minnesota State Fair championship race in record time Labor Day.

The Offenhauser is owned by H. L. (Monk) McCurdy and was driven to victory by Marvin Pifer of Adrian, Mich.

It was the 18th feature win in 24 starts for the car built by Harley Haines of Marion. Pifer has been racing the car in midwestern fairs since July 1 and will take the car to 13 more fairs during the next five weeks.

The car won the North Dakota State Fair feature at Minot, N.D., two weeks ago. Next action for Pifer and the car will be at the South Dakota State Fair at Huron. Other upcoming fair visits will be to the Oklahoma State Fair at Oklahoma City and a county fair at Hutchinson, Kan.

It is the second year of racing for the car which won about half its starts last year.

Merchants Get Set for Heavy Fall Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—With Labor Day behind them merchants are set today to go after record fall and Christmas trade.

The final four months of 1955—the big sales period of the retail year—takes off from a high base Sales totals already are well above last year.

Competition is fierce It is complicated just now by a new flare-up in the battle over "fair trade"—the effort of some manufacturers to make all merchants adhere under law to the factory-set retail price.

Earlier doubts as to how long people would go on spending their money so freely are slipping away now. The signs point now to continued willingness to go on putting up the cash, or the credit, as long as consumers have well paying jobs and have confidence they'll keep those jobs

Good response to back-to-school promotions are reported from most places. Automobile sales are holding up better than expected for so late in the season Furniture and house furnishings move well in many stores.

Merchants and dealers are looking for September to be another months of retail sales totaling more than 15 billion dollars The all-out advertising of fall merchandise promotions is getting under way with the passing of Labor Day and the unofficial start of the fall season.

Bowling Green Faculty Replacement Employed

BOWLING GREEN — President Ralph W. McDonald of Bowling Green State University today announced the appointment of Irving M. Bonawitz as accounting instructor.

Bonawitz will replace Dr. W Asquith Howe on the faculty with the opening of the fall semester on Sept. 26. Dr. Howe, an assistant professor of accounting at Bowling Green State University, resigned recently to become chairman of the accounting department at Temple University in Philadelphia.

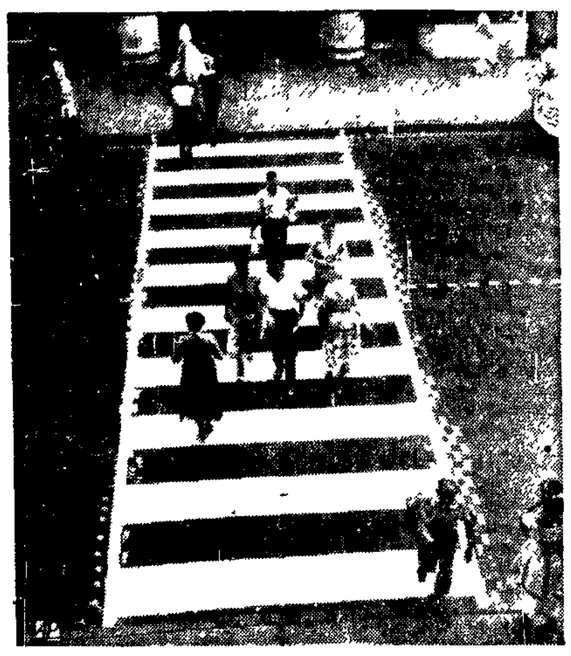
Bonawitz, a partner in the Chicago accounting firm of John Seybold and Co., holds a B S degree in business administration from Northwestern University.

Star Hitter Will Return To Sing Sing Ball Team

NEW YORK (AP) —Albert Owens, 31, may get back his old berth on the Sing Sing prison baseball team.

A 310 hitter until he was paroled in 1953 after serving seven years of a burglary sentence, Owens was arrested again Monday.

Police said they nabbed the 6 foot 2, 206-pound man as he struggled out of a Brooklyn home with two suitcases loaded with $10,000 worth of loot. He was charged with burglary, grand larceny and possession of burglar tools.



SAFETY DEVICE. Norfolk, Va traffic engineers provided this crosswalk for pedestrians in the hope that it will prove popular and be seen more readily by motorists.

Townsend, Home, Dodges Questions On Royal Romance

LONDON (AP) — "Wait and see" was the cryptic reply from Group Capt Peter Townsend Monday night to questions about himself and Princess Margaret

The 40-year-old Royal Air Force flier was the center of attention at a cocktail party at the Belgian Embassy because of long-standing reports linking him romantically with the 25-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II

Townsend returned to Britain Monday for the first time since last September He flew here from Brussels, where he is British air attache, to attend today's opening of the annual Farnborough Air Show

At the cocktail party, he was asked by reporters

"Do you expect any startling developments during your visit?"

"I hope to have a quiet three days in England," said Townsend "I do not think there will be any startling developments as far as I am concerned"

Princess Margaret is vacationing at Balmoral Castle in Scotland with other members of the royal family.

Crawford Schools Open Doors Today

BUCYRUS — Doors opened today at Crawford County's 10 rural consolidated schools with an estimated 2,820 pupils expected to be enrolled, an increase of 100 over last year's opening day total County School Supt. S. K. Sollars reported that the largest enrollment will be Holmes - Liberty School, where 420 pupils are enrolled. Other estimated enrollments include: Tiro, 320, Mount Zion, 310, North Robinson, 300; New Washington, 285; Sulphur Springs, 280, Whetstone, 250, Leesville, 236; Lykens, 220, and Chatfield, 200.

The county system has 35 new teachers this year, including 31 replacements and four additional instructors.

Total first grade enrollment is expected to be about 260, virtually the same as in 1954, Supt. Sollars reported.

Ex-Convict in Chicago Resists Officers, Is Slain

CHICAGO (AP) — Police surprised a 19-year-old ex-convict breaking into a penny gum dispenser Monday, chased him into an alley and shot him to death when he brandished a punch bar.

The dead youth was identified as Charles Black. He had 483 pennies in his pocket.

Police said a warning shot was fired before Patrolman John Davis killed Black, who police said was threatening Davis with the bar.

Black had been released from the Illinois State Penitentiary, Pontiac branch, Friday.

There is more energy in one hurricane than in hundreds of atom bombs all exploding at once, says the National Geographic Society.

ASTONISHING PERFORMANCE!
And that's only half the Chevrolet story

Great Features back up Chevrolet Performance: Anti-Dive Braking—Ball-Race Steering—Outrigger Rear Springs—Body by Fisher—12-Volt Electrical System—Nine Engine-Drive Choices.

A lightning-quick power punch that makes your driving safer! That's one of the reasons for Chevrolet's winning stock car record—but it's not the only one. Not by a long shot!

The sizzling acceleration of Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" is half the story; but it takes a lot more besides. Cornering and handling qualities really count on the NASCAR* Short Track circuit where Chevrolet's king—just as they count for safer and more pleasant highway driving. And even the high-priced cars don't slice through a tight turn as neatly—or handle as sweetly—as this beauty. The record proves it!

MY coal's in the bin!

Why not take a minute and order yours?

In just a minute you can phone your coal dealer and he'll promptly have your home ready for the winter you know is sure to come. Oh, it seems a long way off maybe . . . but how many times have you been caught with your bin empty? Guarantee your family a warm home even on the first chilly day by ordering your coal now, and avoid the winter rush. You'll be filling your bin anyway, so why not do it now? It takes only a minute to be sure of your family's comfort.

When you order, specify "Fuel Satisfaction" by name. That's the superior Bituminous Coal that's mined along the N & W. Because it's mined deeper in the earth, it's older, and Nature has had more time to make it purer. Because it's purer and freer from ash content, it gives more heat, less smoke and waste . . . and does it more economically. Order "Fuel-Satisfaction" by name, today.

Movie Capital Continuing To Grab Headlines

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Catching up on the news —

The annual refresher is over, and now — as the radio announcers say—back to the news. The usual amount of giddy Hollywood happenings went on during the absence, plus a more than usual quota of sadness.

So Rita Hayworth left Dick Haymes! Well, well. That girl's life has had more turns than the saga of a soap opera heroine. Matter of fact, she makes Helen Trent and Stella Dallas seem like dull dolls.

'Twas inevitable that Frank Sinatra would be in the news. For a fellow who says he doesn't like publicity, he surely gets it.

This time he walked out on "Carousel." It was a surprise to this long-memoried soul, because as far back as eight years ago Frank was urging his studio—then MGM—to buy the Rodgers and Hammerstein classic for him.

Frank's loss is Gordon Macrae's gain. After years of playing second fiddle in Doris Day musicals, the robust baritone is finally coming into his own. He's got the two singing roles of the decade in "Oklahoma!" and "Carousel."

The sad news was the passing of three well-liked figures. Carmen Miranda, whose whole life was devoted to making people happy. Robert Francis, the brightest young star prospect in years and a natural, likable fellow. And Suzan Ball.

It won't be easy to forget the memories concerning Suzan. When she sat in the Universal commissary and told for the first time why she was using crutches — because she had cancer in her knee. When she received reporters after the amputation and impressed them all with her courage. When she reported the first day on "Chief Crazy Horse," walking gamely on her new leg.

When she told her reaction to cancer: "I felt no pity for myself, nor have I had any feeling of regret."

Union To Vote Tuesday On Westinghouse Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union leaders have invited all employes of Westinghouse Electric Corp. to join in a vote tomorrow on a proposed national strike of CIO International Electrical Workers against the firm.

Charles Clark, president of Columbus local 746, said 3,800 of the 4,100 workers involved here are IUE members.

The proposed walkout stems from a strike of about 2,200 workers at Westinghouse's East Pittsburgh plant over a time study program. The company has furloughed another 5,000 employes.

Officials at the Columbus plant estimated $75,000 a day in wages would be lost by workers here should they decide to strike.

4 Autos Collide On Pennsylvania's Turnpike, 4 Hurt

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—A four-car pileup on the Pennsylvania Turnpike eight miles west of the Donegal Interchange last night injured four persons.

Taken to Frick Memorial Hospital at Mt. Pleasant were Joel Petigo of 85 Fulton St., Akron, Ohio; Michael B. Buchanan, 20, of Pittsburgh; John Pushing, 19, of Cleveland; and William J. Nagy, 19, of Cleveland.

State police said an auto driven by Martha I. Shenk, 19, of Willoughby, Ohio, skidded and crossed the medial strip. Cars driven by Chester B. Vance, 29, stationed at Ft. Devens, Mass., and Jean S. Schmeck, 38, of Fleetwood, Pa., managed to stop in time to avoid a collision with the Shenk vehicle but Petigo's auto crashed into the rear of the Schmeck car and caused a pileup.

All the injured were in the Petigo auto.

Rash of Control Bills May Jolt Budget

Flood Disaster To Have Big Impact on Congress

By JAMES FREE

WASHINGTON (NANA) — If history repeats, those recent disastrous floods in the northeastern United States will have great influence on water resource development programs throughout the country.

The impact can be expected in Congress in the early months of 1956. And it may well add important elements to next year's congressional and presidential election campaigns.

Already it is evident that record flood damage in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and the New England states has created an all-time high demand for flood-control projects that would prevent or minimize such occurrences in the future.

It was this type of aroused public sentiment after the rampaging 1927 flood on the Mississippi River that made possible the passage of the Mississippi Flood Control Act, which put Uncle Sam in the field of flood control in a big way for the first time.

A decade later the Ohio River burst its banks in spectacular fashion, putting the nation in a mood for acceptance of flood control as a federal responsibility in congressional acts of 1936 and 1937.

IN MORE RECENT year, dramatic and costly overflows on the Missouri River put the spurs to the lagging flood-control program, on that mighty stream.

Once again mother nature has stepped in, with an unusual display of flash floods caused by hurricane rains, to compel national attention to the serious problem of flood control. Somehow in between the crisis years, flood control too often has been looked on as a "pork barrell" affair of concern mainly to politicians.

It is significant, too, that this latest demand for more flood protection comes from a section of the country that, generally, has not regarded itself as an area that had major flood problems. The pattern in Congress—with exceptions from time to time—has been for backers of river projects in the South and the Midwest to team up with supporters of reclamation projects in the West. These combinations often have had to overcome the opposition, or the indifference, of legislators from the East and Northeast.

IF, AS APPEARS imminent, many eastern congressmen will be plugging hard for river-improvement projects for their home districts in 1956, this ought to open up new prospects for other sections as well. For there is always a lot of horse-trading, or vote-swapping if you will, in the annual civil functions bill that includes rivers and harbors and flood-control projects. The theme is "You vote for my project and I'll vote for yours."

Frequently in the recent past, eastern legislators with no demand from back home for river projects have done much of their vote trading by asking a repayment vote on a different bill.

Things promise to be different in 1956. With the Northeast in the market for river improvements long sought in slightly different kind by colleagues from other sectors of the United States, there is likely to be one whale of a civil functions bill offered to Congress in '56.

President Eisenhower has indicated that he will go along with a stepped-up flood-control program in 1956. And any such program, no matter how localized 1955 floods may have been, cannot be restricted to the hurricane-hit states of the east.

SEVERAL MONTHS AGO Congress showed that it is ahead of the President in its willingness to loosen up on expenditures for civil functions. Mr. Eisenhower had been trying to keep an economy lid on new projects in this field, following on the heels of former president Harry Truman, who stopped all new starts on Civil functions projects shortly after outbreak of the Korean War. Democrats in the 84th Congress led a move to put in the last civil functions bill no fewer than 107 items that were not recommended by the Budget Bureau, an executive agency of the government. All these items put together added only $35,000,000 to the bill, but the President did not like it and he said so when he signed the bill.

A whopping civil functions bill next year could easily add $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 to the budget. Should this happen, what does this do to the Republican aim of balancing the budget in 1956 and maybe sponsoring a tax cut?

It is obvious that the northeast floods really started something. Not so obvious yet is the matter of just how powerful this new force will be. The guess here is that it will be rather terrific.

FILLING A GLASS THE HARD WAY. Otto Hoecker of Nuernberg, Germany, likes to do things the hard way, and he proves it as he demonstrates a trick that took three years and a lot of broken glasses to perfect. He's balancing a champagne glass on the edge of a knife held in his mouth as he fills the glass from a watering can balanced on his head.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name *Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

You don't need a "BUNDLE" to wrap up this BONUS-BARGAIN

SOMETIMES, a bargain is measured by how little you pay.

Sometimes, it's measured by how much you get.

But here's one that's a whopping bargain by both measures.

Because right now—for the leastest money of the year—you can buy the mostest Buick in history.

That, Mister, is because we're adding a profit-sharing bonus allowance on top of the long trade-in allowances we've been making all year.

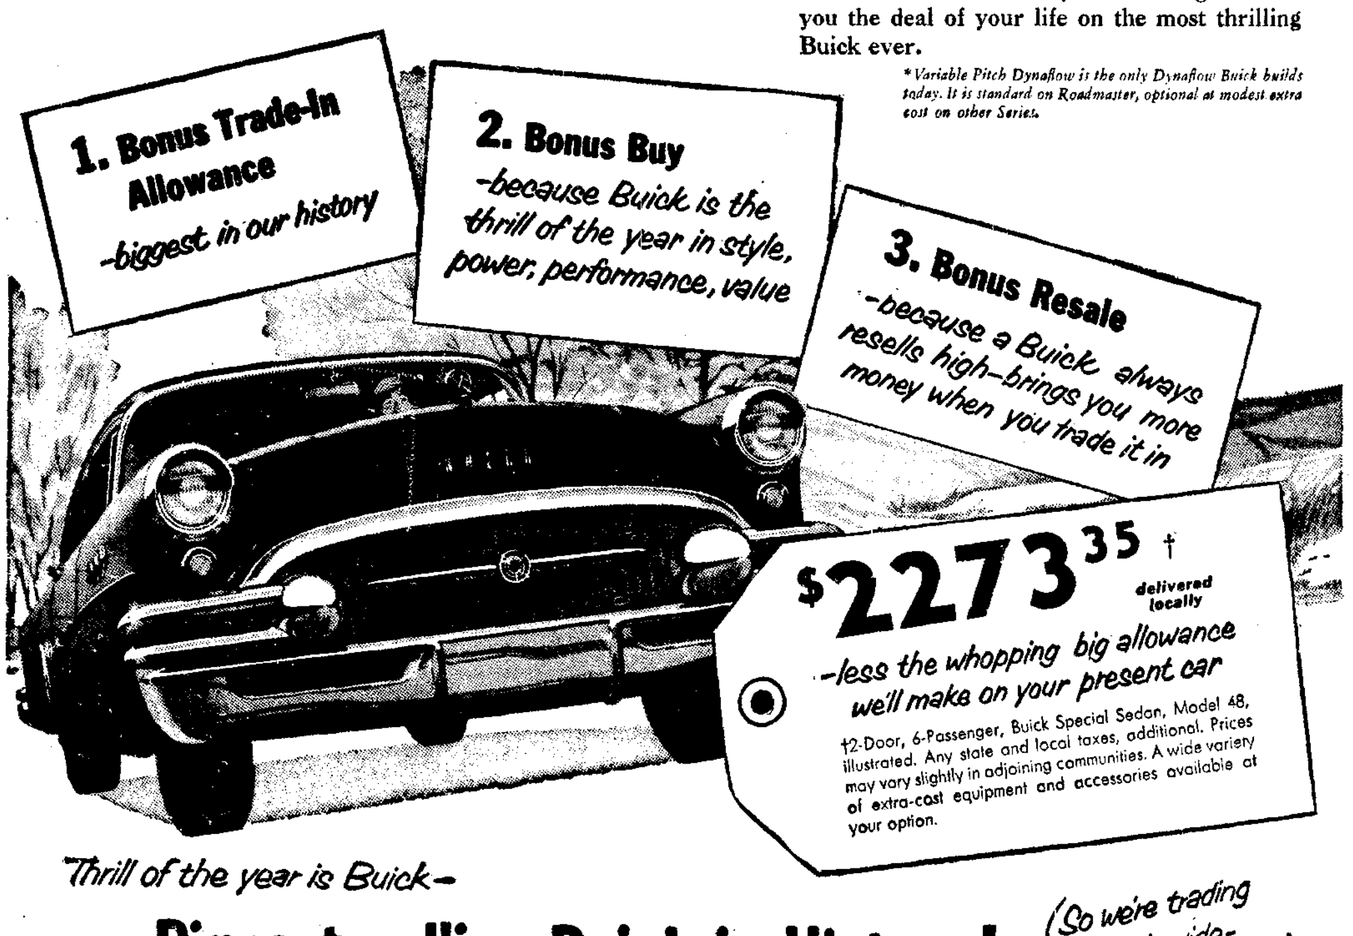
And when we say the "mostest" Buick, we mean the most-wanted Buick ever built—the one that has broken every record in the book—outselling by far all other cars except the two most widely known smaller ones.

We mean the Buick that brings you the most for your money in terms of mighty V8 Power – of real family-size room—of bold fresh styling. The one that gives you the most buoyant ride ever born of all-coil springing.

And we mean the only car blessed by the smooth magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—world's first transmission built on the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.

Come on in. We're ready and waiting to make you the deal of your life on the most thrilling Buick ever.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.



1. Bonus Trade-In Allowance
-biggest in our history
2. Bonus Buy
-because Buick is the thrill of the year in style, power, performance, value
3. Bonus Resale

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The Year Ahead

One day, the NBC "Zoo Parade" safari in East Africa was shooting a scene out on the Amboselli Plain, which is not exactly the most well traveled thoroughfare in the world, when a small English sedan heaved over the horizon and descended on us in a cloud of white dust. Out clambered a husband and wife and some children looking exactly like an English family on a vacation which is what they were. A camera crew, I reflected, will gather a crowd anywhere, even in the heart of what used to be called darkest Africa.

JOHN CROSBY

Seeing the cameras, the English folk thought we must have come from Hollywood and they arrived expecting, at the very least, Humphrey Bogart. When they discovered it was only NBC and that the films would be shown only on television, they were both disappointed and flabbergasted.

-:-

"YOU CAME ALL this way to take pictures for television!" exclaimed the lady. "You must have lots of money."

It's a very expressive remark and, in many different forms, it's being uttered all the time. And not only in Africa either. Even over here people are constantly being amazed by the profligacy of television. During the coming season, television will more than ever be doing things on a grand scale. It's high time TV got credit for it.

Of course, gradeur and lots of money don't ensure good television but at least the networks are thinking in large terms which I think is a healthy sign for the viewer. At least it's a healthier sign than the ad agency philosophy, dominant only a short time ago: how many viewers can I buy for how little money which usually meant another quiz show.

NEXT YEAR, as Pat Weaver, president of NBC, pointed out in this space in a guest column, NBC and CBS will do some 100 spectaculars. That's a staggering amount of entertainment and enlightenment for one country to produce in a single season. It won't all be great but the fact that the industry can get that great a variety and depth of material before the cameras at all is a fairly spectacular achievement.

Plans are so opulent for 1955-56 that you begin to wonder what is going to be left to do in 1956-57. Maurice Evans will be doing 90-minute series of great plays. There will be new operas and the reopening of the magnificent old opera house in Vienna will be well covered on NBC. CBS will be telling us all about the waters of the world and NBC will tackle the history of Russian communism and India. And "Omnibus" will try to explore the whole Renaissance.

THE TREND IS NOT only toward more costly shows but toward longer and longer ones. "See It Now," which has been mostly a half-hour show, will go in for 60-minute and 90-minute documentaries. It's far too early to say that the half-hour show is finished but I think it's safe to say that the shows you will remember next season will be the longer ones.

It's a network attempt to latch on to your attention with a single show early in the evening and, by the time it's over, you'll be thinking about bed.

It seems to me that the public ought to reorganize its thinking about television just as thoroughly as TV has reorganized its thinking about itself. Television will take its public seriously only so long as the public takes it seriously.

That note of incredulity in the English lady's voice — "You came all this way to take pictures for television!" — was very amusing at the time. But it's a little out of date.

In the Service

Pfc. Robert Frederick of Marion has re-enlisted in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and is at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., where he is taking a refresher course prior to receiving an assignment.

Frederick, discharged from the Air Force in September, 1953, taught school in the Marion County school system and was employed by Nickles Bakery prior to re-entering the service. His wife is the former Charlotte E. Schaeffer of 285 Superior St.

Paul C. Drollinger Jr., chief fire control technician, USN, of Marion is serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Tidewater.

Drollinger, son of Mrs. Paul C. Drollinger Sr. of 231 Ellis Pl., reported for duty aboard the ship last month. In the service for nearly 12 years, he recently graduated from fire control school in Washington, D. C. Prior to that, he had served as a machine accountant in Washington the last year. His wife, the former Mary Ellen Iversen of Martins Ferry, O., resides at the Ellis Pl address.

Swedish Meat Balls Make a Hearty Main Dish

Once you've tried them, Swedish meat balls will become one of your favorite American dishes.

They make a quick and easy hearty meal with only a vegetable, a crisp salad, bread and beverage needed to round out your menu.

Use:

1½ pounds ground beef
2 cups malted whole wheat flakes
2 cups water
1 tablespoon grated onion
2½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoons flour

Combine ground beef, cereal, 1 cup of the water, grated onion, salt, pepper and nutmeg; mix thoroughly. Shape into 24 small meat balls. Brown meat balls in butter. Add flour and mix with butter in skillet. Add remaining 1 cup water. Cover tightly and simmer 10 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

TV Networks' Competition for Viewers Tough

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Television is entering the most competetive season in its lengthening history. The prize for the big networks—ABC, CBS, NBC—is, as always, the largest viewing audience.

One of the hottest programming spots is the weekend evenings, Saturday and Sunday. The Saturday night NBC target is Jackie Gleason on CBS, who will be riding the 8 to 9 E.S.T. spot. Beginning Oct. 1, in an effort to cut Gleason off at the draw, NBC has snapped up a $100,000 pay-off shot for 6:30 p.m. At 7 p.m. NBC swings into a full-hour Perry Como musical. Insiders say the Como show undoubtedly won't break at 7:30 in an effort to prevent viewers from making that twist of the dial to Gleason on CBS when he begins "The Honeymooners" segment of his shows.

George Gobel returns to NBC at 9 p.m. But CBS is not taking Gobel lying down any more than NBC is taking Gleason lying down. Opposite Gobel it plans once-a-month big color shows with such drawing cards as Judy Garland, Mary Martin, Noel Coward, Bing Crosby.

In that Saturday 6:30-8 p.m. spot ABC is loping along with "Ozark Jubilee," interspersed every four weeks, beginning Oct. 15, with a televised version of radio's popular "Grand Ol' Opery."

On Sunday evening Ed Sullivan works his 7 p.m. spot over CBS, opposite Colgate Variety Hour on NBC. At 6:30 p.m. over CBS Jack Benny is spotted every other week with Ann Sothern playing his opposite week. Same hour over NBC comes "Frontier" which its creator, Worthington Miner, says will be "real stories of average people who went west."

Against this formidable competition ABC is leveling a heavy battery with a series of top British films from the studios of J. Arthur Rank. With these movies ABC "could well pull off the season's Sabbath surprise," says George Rosen, television editor of the show business trade paper, Variety, who is probably the best prophet in the industry.

Congressmen Think Big Farms Get Advantage in Crop Loans

By JAMES B. SIBBISON
Associated Press Writer

Are the big wheat and corn faarmers in Ohio obtaining an unfair advantage under the government's crop loan program?

Rep. Polk (D-Ohio), a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said today he thinks they are. Another Ohioan, Rep. Bow (R-Ohio), has suggested putting a ceiling on such loans.

Farm price supports, both maintain, were designed primarily for the little fellows—not giant corporate farms. They point to a Department of Agriculture chart of 1954 crop loans which shows:

Walton & Case Biggest

The average loan on corn in Ohio amounted to $1,400. The biggest borrower, Walton & Case Farms of Prospect, Ohio, obtained corn loans totaling $77,771.90.

On wheat, the average loan was $800, compared with the No. 1 recipient, Orleton Farms of London, Ohio, which got $72,681.74.

"The farmers in Ohio are becoming considerably stirred up about this," Polk told a reporter.

Bow calls unlimited farm loans "one of the worst flaws of the old farm plan."

Seventy-four farm producers, he said, received loans of more than $100,000 on their 1954 production, with Delta and Pine Land Co. of Mississippi leading them all with a $1,292,472.25 cotton loan.

Here are the top five borrowers on 1954 wheat and corn crops in Ohio:

Corn—Walton & Case Farms, $77,771.90; Chaswil Farm, Sabina, $62,635.30; Dunlap Co., Williamsport, $53,160; Landen Farms, Foster, $46,189.50; Dale Roe, Rudolph, $37,749.

Loans on Wheat

Wheat—Orleton Farms, London, $72,681.74; Walton & Case Farms, Prospect, $49,302.88; J. J. Beck & Sons, Napoleon, $17,248.66; D. G. Wing, Mechanicsburg, $17,758 04; Heckert Bros., Bucyrus, $15,552.34.

The idea of limiting loans on crops, however, does not have the support of the Eisenhower administration.

Don Paarlberg, assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, told a reporter that it sounds like a "fine idea" but that actually it wouldn't help small farmers.

What would happen, he said, would be that the small farmers would mostly get loans on their crops, leaving the grain markets strong.

Then the big farms, he said, could sell their unsupported grain at good prices.

Thus, he said, everything would be left as it is now, with the big sellers making as much money as ever.

Russell Case, operator of the Walton & Case Farm, said this morning that the law, as it now reads, prevents discrimination against any farm, whether it be large or small.

He said his farm is operating under the law, and staying within its alloted acreage to obtain the supports. He pointed out the lawmakers seemed to be aiming at the large producer in their statements, but he did not know the reasoning behind their statements.

He said that small farmers could obtain as much help from the program as the large producer. However, he added, many of them do not seem to care about the extra five or 10 cents a bushel on their crops and sell the crops on the open market.

He said such a situation often leads to a glutted market with the prices dropping.

Case pointed out that large operators, with more at stake, will more often take advantage of the law and obtain the loans.

A new fuse taped to the door of the fuse box will save fumbling in the dark when the old one blows out.

Cool and Dark Fabrics Sought By School Set

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—"Choose them cool, dark and handsome" is the formula for selection of back-to-school clothes.

Whether designed for the college, high school or even the preteen set, "transition" fabrics, dark colors, and the new longer-looking silhouette are the rule.

St. Louis manufacturers, specialists in clothes for the younger set, say that the transition cottons—which look like fall clothes should but still are cool enough for waning summer weather — far and away are the top fashion. New man-made fibers—rayon flannels, rayon worsteds, and textured nylons—promise the same performance as cotton.

Color choices range from beige to brown, pink to red, blue to violet, mossy green and oxford grays to black. Plaids are favorites, with the Black Watch the best seller.

Designers say three silhouettes dominate this fall. The sheath-like silhouette; the overblouse with pleated skirt; and the full-skirt which can accommodate that teen-aged favorite, the petticoat.

New from the St. Louis style center is the full-length coat with matching slim skirt, softly tailored with the dolman sleeve and a straighter silhouette.

Sportswear fabrics, reflecting the casual trend, are in flecked and monotone tweeds, clan palid wools, corduroys, jerseys and flannels. And Bermuda shorts and pedal-pushers continue popular.

Topping the fall back-to-school fashions is the young-looking little hat, molded in velvets, corduroys and jerseys.

SKUNK STROLL

NEW SALEM, N. D. (UP) — A skuk strolled across U.S. highway 10 near here. Robert Ferderer, 15, of Mandan, driving along the highway, slowed down to avoid the animal. George Rupp, Bismarck, in a second car, bumped into the rear of Ferderer's car. Ferderer was treated for an injured neck muscle. The skunk escaped unharmed.

Indonesia has a population of 80 million.

AWOL Private, 59, Surrenders After 27 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—If William F. Lydon's story checks out, the Army has a 59-year-old private on its hands.

Lydon, a slight, bespectacled elevator operator, turned up at 1st Army headquarters on Governors Island Monday. He told an MP on duty there:

"I want to give myself up. I've been AWOL from the Army since 1928, and now my conscience bothers me so much I've got to go in and face it."

Surprised Army authorities assigned Lydon to a "casual detachment" and restricted him to the island while they checked his case. This might take some time, a spokesman said, since records dating back that far are probably buried somewhere in archives at Kansas City.

Lydon told Army officials he enlisted at Boston in 1928 and was assigned to Ft. Scott, R I While on pass one day with other soldiers, he said, he drank too much and overstayed his leave by two days

Ashamed and afraid to face Army discipline, he decided to stay away.

"I went back to Boston, bought civvies and did railroad and construction work," he recalled. "The Army didn't trace me. A couple of years later I came to New York, met my wife and settled here."

The Army spokesman said the statute of limitations on a peacetime desertion will probably spare Lydon any punishment. "We'll have to give him a discharge, that's all," he added.

Bitten by Snake In Cult Services, Man Refuses Aid

CINCINNATI (AP)—A young man declined today to seek medical aid for a copperhead snake bite he said he received during church services.

"I believe God will take care of me," David Wagers, 22, of Cincinnati, told Patrolman Walter Jones when the officer offered to take him to General Hospital.

Wagers, his right arm swollen to twice its normal size, said he was bitten by the snake while attending Church Northwest of Hamilton, O., yesterday. The church's ceremony apparently requires the handling of snakes as a display of the worshiper's faith that God will help the believer and heal him.

Wagers said other persons had been bitten at church services without incurring death.

The sheriff's office at Hamilton said it had no reports of any snake - handling church in Butler County.

Army Marksmen Dominate Matches

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Army shooters dominate the field as the national rifle and pistol championships enter their final day today.

Leader in the pistol contest is M. Sgt Huelet Benner, West Point Cadet pistol coach, with a score of 1744 out of a possible 1800.

Sgt. 1. C. Loyd Crow, Carrollton, Miss., continues to pace the match rifle contest with 496 out of 500.

On top in the service rifle match is Capt. John W. Kolb, Little Rock Ark., with 488 out of 500.

Other leaders include Ruth I Sawyer, Dayton, Ohio, with 418 in the women's service rifle match

Baptist Church Wrecked By Vandals in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Vandals smashed the interior the the Carondolet Baptist Church Monday, pushing holes in the walls, flooding the basement and spattering ink around the building.

"Our church is wrecked," said the Rev. E. N. Rogers.

He listed as damaged or destroyed the pulpit, piano, public address system, stained glass windows, 20 glass-enclosed nursery cribs, a number of benches and chairs, pictures and religious objects.

Researchers Find Mushrooms Have Cancer-Retarding Ability

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—An old folklore story says that eating certain kinds of mushrooms may help prevent cancer.

Today a scientist who became curious about it said that extracts from some mushrooms do indeed show ability to retard or stop the growth of some cancers transplanted into mice.

These extracts are not yet pure enough for human tests, to disprove or prove the old story. They may provide a new clue for cancer control.

The research was described by Dr. E H. Lucas and Joseph Stevens of Michigan State University at the opening of the annual meeting of the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

Dr. Lucas became interested in the claim in some central European countries that people eating a certain species of mushroom, named Boletus Edulis, had very little cancer.

He tested an extract from it and found it could retard growth of some types of experimental cancer in mice.

Since then, five years ago, 80 different species of mushrooms have been studied. Extracts from 10 have been found to contain some principle able to slow tumor growth in mice, Dr. Lucas said

The best that any extract has done is to retard growth of tumors in animals not to make them shrink or disappear.

Ohio Bell, CIO Resume Talks On Wage Pact

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Bell Telephone Co and the CIO Communications Workers resume wage talks today, with increasing threat of a strike by 16,000 telephone workers in Ohio.

The union's state director, Thomas Mitchell, said after yesterday's session that the company had rejected a union demand which was "pared to the bone," and that the union might be forced to take "drastic action"

Mitchell's remarks followed a company spokesman's statement that the talks had made progress

The union declared a "state of strike" Friday midnight, but said it would call the walkout "at the most opportune time" if an agreement was not reached soon

The company claims the union did not serve the proper strike notice.

Boy, 5, Takes Parking Tickets Off Windshields

SPRINGFIELD Ill (AP) — Detective Sgt. Byron Nolting stopped on his way to work Monday to talk with 5-year-old Terry Weller

Terry insisted that Nolting see his "collection." The boy produced an accumulation of parking tickets taken from the windshields of cars at a municipal parking lot Motorists using the lot have been complaining that a delinquent notice in the mail was their first knowledge of a parking violation

Terry's mother assured police that her son's collection would be stopped.

Employes Loan $100,000 To Cincinnati Company

CINCINNATI (AP)—More than 500 employes of the Hamilton Tailoring Co are lending $100,000 to their employer

Members of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers voted the funds after the company became short of cash after recent acquisitions, a company official said

The money was turned over to the tailoring concern by Jack Kroll, chairman of the Cincinnati Amalgamated Clothing Workers Board, who is better known nationally as director of the CIO Political Action Committee

Starting Wednesday, employes will have 10 per cent of their pay checks deducted as their share of the loan The company will pay approximately $10,000 a month to the union until the debt is erased The employes will receive debenture bonds, paying 3½ per cent interest, to cover their payroll deduction loans

A company official said the union afforded a more attractive proposition than could have been obtained from a bank.

Hamilton Tailoring does a seven-million-dollar yearly business and claims to be the largest made-to-measure clothing organization in the world

"I'm reluctant to talk about the loan because it may embarrass the company," Kroll said "We've done this a goodly number of times here in Cincinnati and elsewhere"

He said most of the loans are repaid to union treasuries

Asked why the union would make a loan to management—a paradox perhaps—Kroll answered

"Our members work in the place It's their jobs The union functions to protect people's jobs We feel we're a part of the industry"

Alvin Heimann, vice president and secretary of the company, thanked the union members for their demonstration of loyalty to the firm.

Reider Proposes Special Session on Social Legislation

NORWALK, O (AP)—Robert Reider, of Port Clinton, former Democratic state representative, says he believes a special session of the Legislature is needed to consider social legislation

Reider, publisher of a weekly Port Clinton newspaper, addressed the annual United Labor Day rally at nearby Cedar Point yesterday

He said, "almost every piece of social legislation . . . was either mangled or killed by the ruthless, dictatorial action of selfish, special interests that pulled the strings in the top-heavy Republican majority of the 101st General Assembly"

Reider criticized action by the Legislature on a bill proposed "by Democrats to change unemployment compensation laws to fit with the new pattern of guaranteed wages

"Republicans turned it down flatly. The action was characteristic of their role as puppets for the fatcats"

Reider said the special session was needed to consider legislation concerning FEPC, housing and workmen's compensation matters

He said, "the little man in Ohio has suffered beyond endurance under the heartless rule of lobby-driven GOP assemblies and he should not be forced to wait for a Democratic legislature in 1957."

February Examinations Slated by Coast Guard

The annual competitive examination for appointments to cadetship in the United States Coast Guard will be conducted on Feb. 27 and 28, 1956, it was announced today by The Coast Guard Successful applicants will be enrolled at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut in July, 1956.

Appointments are made on the basis of the annual examination and evaluated general adaptability There are no Congressional appointment or geographical quotas.

Applicants for the 1956 examination must submit application papers by Jan. 15 and must have reached their 17th but not their 22nd birthday by July 1, 1956

Application forms and an information booklet can be obtained by writing the Commander, Second Coast Guard District, 815 Olive St, St. Louis 1, Mo.

Shooting Case To Be Given to Richland Jury

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Prosecutor Theodore Lutz says he will present the case of Carl Webster, 55, held by police here in the shooting death of a neighbor, to the grand jury meeting tomorrow

Webster was arrested last Sunday night shortly after Paul Davis 46, Mansfield city worker, was shot and killed by a 22 caliber bullet while sitting on his front porch.

Lutz said Webster admitted the shooting but did not know why he did it The prosecutor said the two men had argued and scuffled briefly about 30 minutes before the shooting

Davis was shot in the left side of the back and bled to death according to Dr E C. Lavender, county coroner.

The Japanese Peace Treaty was signed at San Francisco on Sept 8, 1951, by 49 nations.

Winner in Quiz Show Returns To Native Italy

STATALE, Italy (AP)—Gino Prato, the New York cobbler who won $32,000 on the U.S. television quiz program The $64,000 Question, was back home today in the little village he left 33 years ago to seek his fortune in America.

He climbed a mule trail on foot Monday to reach his birthplace in the north Italian mountains. Church bells rang and nearly every resident gathered in the town square to welcome him.

In the center of the crowd stood Giovanni Prato, his 92-year-old father. It was their first reunion since Gino left for the United States.

"It is a great miracle to be able to be here, to see you again," said Gino.

"You have moved the whole world to get here," said his father.

Gino won the $32,000 with his knowledge of opera. Accompanying him to Italy were his wife, their daughter Lorraine, and her new husband Eugene Joannides.

Family Society To Hold Yearly Meeting Sept. 22

Busy making plans for the program of the Family Service Society's annual meeting, to be held Thursday evening, Sept. 22 at the YMCA, are members of the interpretation and public relations committee headed by Rev. L Harrison Ludwig.

They are planning to present a filmed drama of typical family life, to be followed by a discussion of it led by Mrs. Charles Rampe, director of the family life education program of the Family Service Society of Cleveland.

Invitations are being sent to the 227 registered members of the society, but everyone interested in the work of the society is invited to attend, Rev. Ludwig said.

Other members of Rev. Ludwig's committee are Robert Byrd, Miss Madge Cooper, William Hutchman, Ellis Oiler, Mrs Frederick W. Rea, Mrs. Leroy Sharp, Mrs. Edward Snyder, Miss Jess Stewart, Miss Margaret Topliff and Mrs. Smith H. Witter.

Airman's Wife Says Baby Chief Factor in Reunion

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mrs. Una Schmidt says she and her husband Airman Daniel Schmidt were reunited because of their son Danny Jr., 2½.

"We decied that the baby needed both of us," she said Monday during an appearance on Art Linkletter's CBS House Party television show.

"That's right," Schmidt agreed.

Schmidt, released after 2½ years as a prisoner of the Chinese Communists, came to find Una had married another man, Alford Fine, California logger, in the belief, she said, that Schmidt was dead.

The Red Cross Blood Program has procured more than 14 million pints of blood since 1948, of which 7½ million were for civilian use and 6½ million for national defense.

What's Different About Congress?

Sooner or later, this question was bound to be asked by businessmen:

What's different about Congress when it's a question of being purified for government service?

A businessman who may go to Washington to work for the government at a heavy financial loss is expected to divest himself of all holdings that might influence his judgment.

If he fails to do this, some congressman with a chip on his shoulder and an ax to grind can be counted on to smear him with innuendoes of larcenous intent, then defy him to clear his name in a one-sided hearing.

But a politician may go to Washington as a legislator and make hay all over the place while the sun shines. He may be sent to Congress by a special interest, maintained by a special interest and taken care of by a special interest if he fails to win an election. He may vote on proposals directly related to his pocketbook, solicit new business contacts for himself and his law firm or business firm and grind both ends of a double-bitted ax while serving in Congress.

Clarence B. Randall, the steel manufacturer who worked for the Eisenhower administration long enough to form a few convictions about politics and public service, has put the proposition like this:

"If Congress is going to require a man, who at great sacrifice sets out to serve his country, to eliminate all possible conflicts of interests, then Congress should apply the same principle to its own members . . . Ask Congress to eliminate the double standard. Let them walk up to the barrelhead, divest themselves of their private holdings, or disqualify themselves from voting on issues that affect their purposes."

All members of Congress now are paid enough to enable them to live on their income as legislators — more than the highest - paid of the citizens who work for the executive branch.

Why shouldn't they be as willing to keep their skirts clean as they say all members of the executive department and judicial departments should be?

Shadow of a Doubt

It was to have been expected that a touring U.S. senator would invite the top men of the Kremlin to visit the United States, which is what Louisiana Sen. Allen J. Ellender did in Moscow the other day.

Vice President Nixon, it was announced in Washington the same day, would take off on another good-will tour this winter—this time to Africa and the Near East. Meanwhile, it is being pointed out that the exchange visits of U.S. and U.S.S.R. farmers and agriculture officials this summer may be only the opening round of a broader program of back-and-forth visiting.

This all fits into the roomy and vague American credo that if everybody would get better acquainted with everybody else there would be less friction and misunderstanding. It is a credo that has loomed so large in American thinking ever since the first projects in world-wide goodwill building during the 19th century that it sometimes casts the shadow of a doubt.

It is not necessarily true that to know Americans or anybody else better is to love them more. That is no more dependable as a rule of thumb than it is to assume that familiarity breeds contempt. Everything depends on the circumstances.

One of the circumstances is the sincerity of the approach. The United States is pressing so hard in its efforts to make the world love it to pieces that the omen of success would be more favorable if it would recover some of its dignity and reserve. The cold war isn't a popularity contest. It is a battle for men's minds.

Now or Never

If you agree with Treasury Secretary Humphrey that the federal budget must be balanced this year or never, you are financially-conservative.

If you believe it is going to be done by cutting expenditures, however, you are a dreamer who never has waked up to the facts of financial life in Washington. If the budget can be balanced this year, it will be balanced by larger tax collections than were expected when the year began, not by smaller expenditures.

You are worse than a dreamer if you think this would be a good time to retire some of the outstanding federal debt with surplus income from tax collections. That isn't the way it is done. The government is no longer supposed to be comparable to families and private enterprises; it does not retire indebtedness. It waits until the next national emergency, then increases debt, or cuts taxes and lets debt stay where it is. But it does not try to get out of debt.

From 1936 to 1942, the federal debt doubled—from 36 to 72 billion. The following year it doubled again. Within three years it doubled again. Then it was reduced slightly, until 1952, when it began to climb again and has been climbing ever since.

If large tax collections put a lid on it this year, the debt will level off at 275 billion dollars. Tax rates then will be reduced by Congress. In fact, they will be reduced even if the debt goes higher because that will be the popular thing for Congress to do in 1956, debt or no debt.

Move on To Kill Hatch Act

By Arthur Davis

Political Ban Invasion of State Officials' Rights

WASHINGTON — A States' Rights revolt against federal restraints on the political activities of state and local officials and employes is gaining ground in Congress.

If the move continues to pick up momentum at its present rate, odds are that before the end of next year's session, the legislators will erase from the statute books the 16-year-old Hatch Act provision that bars politicking by persons employed in state or local programs financed to the slightest degree by federal loans or grants.

If this comes to pass, it will free hundreds of thousands of state and local employes to take active parts in next year's presidential and congressional election campaigns, except where they are barred from doing so by local statutes.

The little-known section of the Hatch Act, which most people regard only as a law to prevent federal employes from engaging in improper political activities, creates a problem that is far more than academic.

ACCORDING to the latest available statistics from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, which enforces the Hatch Act, there have been 596 cases involving alleged violations of the act by state personnel since 1940, almost exactly one-fourth as many as those involving federal workers.

During the year ended June 30, 1954, 71 cases were handled, and violations were found in five. Three of the violators were fired. An additional 29 cases were pending at that time.

All told, the federal government has forced dismissal of 39 state or local employes for illegal politicking.

The club wielded by the federal government is a hefty one. Under the law, the state or political subdivision concerned may be required to dismiss the offending employe and not rehire him for at least 18 months.

If the state refuses to comply, an amount equal to the worker's salary for two years is withheld from the federal loan or grant which the state would otherwise receive.

A HOUSE committee recommended repeal of the provision in a report submitted in the closing days of this year's session, but when it came up in the House under a procedure requiring unanimous approval, the repealer was blocked unexpectedly by an objection from Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D.,O.).

"While at the time of its enactment there may well have been a need for legislation of this type," said the committee report, "that need has since ceased to exist.

"Most states now have laws which restrict the types of political activity in which state employes may engage."

The restrictive federal statute had its origins in the depression days of the WPA, when U. S. moneys were being parceled out to the states for pump-priming, and corruption and political activities were out of control.

Reps. Winston L. Prouty (R.,Vt.) and John V. Beamer (R., Ind.) are leading the fight in the House for the repeal bill, and Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R., Neb.), detecting "a ridiculous expansion of federal power," promises to push the measure in the Senate next year. State governors and attorneys general across the nation are solidly behind it.

Rep. Prouty and the state of Vermont were stirred to action by the case of W. Arthur Simpson, the state commissioner of social welfare.

Simpson was specifically exempted from state curbs on political activity by the state's personnel regulations, a set of rules that had been approved by federal social security authorities.

IN 1951, HE wrote a letter to a Boston newspaper praising the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's presidential qualifications. In 1950, he had served for three hours, according to Prouty, as chairman of the Republican state convention.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission found Simpson had violated the Hatch Act. It ordered the state to fire him or pay a penalty of $11,000. The state board of social welfare flatly refused to dismiss the welfare commissioner, saying the $11,000 penalty is "a small contribution in support of principles as strong and enduring as the rock-ribbed hills of Vermont."

Later, the Vermont legislature passed a resolution of tribute to Simpson and state officials appealed the CSC finding to the federal district court in Brattleboro.

In July, Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson ruled that the Civil Service Commission had failed to produce evidence to support its findings. He ordered the proceeding reopened for the submission of additional evidence if any is available, and that's where the case now stands.

Said Prouty, "If a state official, merely because he is engaged in the administration of federal funds in the state, is barred from activities legal for other state officials not similarly engaged, it can only mean that almost the last vestige of state's rights has been crushed by the octopusian tentacles of the federal bureaucracy."

Ike in No Rush To Air Plans

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower would deprive Republican politicians a lot of yakity-yak if he suddenly announced he'll run awain in -1956.

They've been talking, guessing, predicting, hoping for the better part of 1955 that he'll be a candidate. The end is not in sight. No wonder. Eisenhower is not only their best bet to win. He may be their only one.

Vice President Nixon himself indicated as much last March. With the 1954 Republican congressional defeat then still fresh in mind, he declared:

"The Republican party today is not strong enough to elect a president. We have to have a candidate strong enough to elect the Republican party. That is why we won in 1952."

—:—

SEN. KERR of Oklahoma, one of the Democratic party's wits, after listening to the Republican clamor for Eisenhower, said. The Democrats are not nearly so afraid Eisenhower will run again as Republicans are he won't.

Republicans don't have to visit Eisenhower and examine the presidential tea leaves to have an opinion for the press. Near and far they seem to keep a wet finger aloft to tell which way the White House breeze blows.

So far what they've said sounded like music in their own ears since Eisenhower has stated he wouldn't make up his mind until 1956 and then only after considering the condition of the world and his own health.

NIXON, WHOSE HOPE of retaining the vice presidency may depend on an Eisenhower victory next year, is the latest to come away from the President with opinions but not much solid information.

After visiting Eisenhower in Denver Monday and telling reporters he had not discussed politics with the President, Nixon said:

"Among people who know the President — and want him to run—they are more optimistic than at any time since he was inaugurated that he will run again."

Eisenhower, like other presidents before him, has some sound political reasons for keeping both parties guessing about his intentions. He'd lose a lot of his influence on Republicans in Congress if he said now he would not run again.

And if he said this early he would run, the Democrats no doubt would spend between now and election time trying to whittle him down to frying size. Meanwhile, he needs all the influence and good will he can get to run the government.

Here is a bird's-eye look at Republicans in the past couple of months on the subject of a second term for Eisenhower:

Nebraska Republicans have sent him a petition to run; so did 54 House Republicans; Minnesota Republicans are getting up one; Louisiana Republicans are too.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) says he is convinced Eisenhower will run; Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) urged him to; Senators Capehart (R-Ind) and Case (R-NJ) say he is certain to; Postmaster General Summerfield says he believes Eisenhower will.

Pushing Rivers Around

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES — In a boastful moment a member of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation said that he and his colleagues enjoyed "pushing rivers around." Unlike the bureaucrats who redirect rivers for the joy of it and at other people's expense, the people of Southern California are driven to the task by necessity and at their own expense.

The first stream that was commandeered for the consumption of a thirsty community was the Owens River far to the north and east of Los Angeles. That was planned and started nearly 50 years ago.

Twenty years later, this city, built in what was close to a desert, was again cramped for moisture and the great aqueduct from the Colorado River was created. Now, with not much more than 20 years' assurance of a water supply, Southern California is planning to reach far to the north and bring down water from the Feather River.

NEITHER THE OWENS nor the Colorado projects were built at federal expense, and the communities of Southern California plan to pay for the new Feather River project also. It will cost a lot of money. Present estimates put the figure at 1½ billion dollars. But with 10 million people in the area south of the Tehachapi Mountains by 1975, the water will not only be necessary but within their means.

The Feather River is a lively stream which comes down from the Sierras roughly 75 miles north of Sacramento. An immense dam at Oroville would store 3½ million acre feet. From that reservoir a series of canals, tunnels and lifts would bring water all the way to San Diego.

The total length of the planned aqueduct would be 576 miles. Several areas on the way south would be assigned water supplies, including the Feather River area itself, Santa Clara, and Alameda County (of which the city of Oakland is a part), Ventura and Santa Barbara, a part of the Mojave Desert region, and finally and mostly, Southern California.

THE STATE would build, pay for and own the aqueduct, but the benefited communities would pay for the water under contracts similar to those which guaranteed the federal government's investment in the Hoover Dam. The California state engineer has made plans which are subject to further and considerable amendments. His problem is to fashion the course of the aqueduct so that there will be a minimum of lifting operations. In order to get the water through the mountains that lie between the coast area and the source of the water at the north, there is a problem of elevating the water something like 3,500 feet. In such operations as this, lifting the water constitutes an enormous annual expense. This would make the cost of the water $50 per acre foot, much more than any supplies already available.

According to Samuel B. Morris, general manager of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, the amount available for the coastal area between Los Angeles and San Diego from present sources is enough for an estimated 8 million people, which is 2 million more than at present.

If and when more come in, there would have to be a sharp curtailment of the water used in agriculture. But with the Feather River water, all prospective needs would be met until the year 2,000. Beyond that, it is likely that other chief engineers and general managers and mayors will have to do the worrying.

Perhaps by that time the sea can be rid of its salt. Even that is more likely than that people will stop moving to Southern California.

Vice Presidents

By TRUMAN TWILL

With its usual flair for finding out what I want to know, Fortune Magazine has assembled the statistics on vice presidents in industry and business.

There now are a quarter of a million vice presidents in the walnut-paneled paddocks of management talent in the United States. The 500 largest firms have an average of 7.75 vice presidents apiece.

They bear the vice-presidential title for six main reasons: They are second in command, they are heads of divisions, they are in charge of special operations, they are supposed to enhance the prestige of the No. 1 man, they have been "knighted" for the sake of customer relations, or they have been given an honorarium to keep them happy.

This tells me everything I want to know about vice presidents.

I, too, am a vice president and wanted to know the score before making a fool of myself. My vice presidency is not in business or industry, but the same general rules apply.

I am the vice president of my family reunion on my mother's side and recently was re-elected without opposition to a second term. This came as a surprise because my first term was a fluke, like Henry Wallace's and I figured wiser heads would prevail the second time around.

Nevertheless, I kept my mouth shut. I have paid close attention to my knitting. I have stayed out of controversy and instituted no reforms in the family. I have kicked no sleeping dogs, set afire to burning issues, have made noncommital answers and kept my fences in repair.

Even though it didn't seem to be in the cards to be a second-termer, I did not intend to get hammered back into my former drab identity as "the one who was never strong when he was a baby" by any fault of my own. If obscurity came, it would have to be tribal judgment in the abstract.

But the blow did not fall. The reunion secretary was instructed to cast an unanimous ballot to re-elect all present officers, an old dodge my cousin's wife from Possum Ridge loves and brings into play on every occasion. Since it would have been embarrassing to inquire, "But what about the vice presidency?" I was in like Elsa Maxwell at a clambake.

There will be no change of policy in my second term. I will keep my mouth shut and my mind at rest. I shall overtax the prerogatives of my position no more than I expect to overtax myself.

Sleeping dogs can keep on sleeping. Family skeletons will rattle through no fault of mine. I intend to stay out of feuds, shun gossip and attend all funerals within a radius of 50 miles, speaking nought but good of both the dead and the living.

I shall be faithful to my trust, which is the care of the family tin cups. These were purchased a half century ago, before paper cups were available and before the market was flooded with cheap, kitchen ware. There are 150 of them—enough to fill a traveling case when the little sizes are fitted into the big sizes and the cups stacked the long way of the case.

My job is to pick them up when the reunion is over, wash them, put them into the case and keep them from harm until next year. I know just how some vice presidents must feel—the ones being kept happy with honorariums. That must be a small fortune in those tin cups.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The woman defendant in municipal court raised her left hand when City Clerk Duffy Horan started to give her the oath.

"Raise your right hand," said Horan.

"But this is my right hand," she replied, "I'm left-handed. It's the hand I use all the time."

"But it's not the hand you swear by," Horan insisted.

The woman finally relented but said in a hurt tone:

"It still doesn't feel right."

Lightning Loss

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Farmer George Neiderhiser now knows it doesn't pay to stand under a tree during a lightning storm. Ten of Neiderhiser's cows were killed when they took refuge from a storm under a large oak. He estimated his loss at $5,000.

September Office Mood

"Take an outboard motor, Miss Twipsey! . . beg pardon . . . I mean take a letter. . . . Smith, Wiggins & Canoe . . . no, that last name can't be right.. . . Just a minute! . . . What? . . . Somebody wants me on the surfboard? . . . Oh, you said the telephone . . . What horsepower? . . I mean what name? Tell 'em to call me back at high tide. . . . No, not that. . . . Call me back this afternoon when I will not be in . . . What am I saying? . . Where are you, Miss Twipsey? . Stop diving underwater that way . . . What water? . . .

(Miss Twipsey the office stenog reminded the boss that it was September, that summer was over and that he was back on the job now. But it was in vain.)

"WHERE WAS I?. . . Oh, I remember . . . . Somewhere between a letter, a phone call and a cross current . . To whom was I writing? . . . Oh, yes Smith, Yawl, Schooner & Sundeck. . . . Somehow that doesn't sound right . . . Gentlemen . . . In reply to your porch music on the 25th. . Strike that. . . In reply to your letter of the 25th requesting quotation on our beach parties, hammocks, rods, reels, whitecaps and frankfurters. . . No, no, there must be some mistake, Miss Twipsey, and what are you doing with clothes on instead of a sarong and brassiere?

(The stenographer, just back, too, from the summer vacation, pleaded "Please, you're in September now. Try to concentrate.")

"Port your helm! . . . Mind the red buoy! . . . Let's get on with this clambake! . . . this letter. I should say . . . Ready? ... And remember it's forty yards to the float and back, with no handicaps. . . In reply to your communication asking for our prices on mosquito netting, sunburn lotion, grommets, et cetera I am happy to state that our new line of shore resort romances, moonlight adventures and outdoor grills is the best on the market and can be supplied with corn-on-the-cob, clam fritters, souvenir postcards, snakebite cures and sumac poisoning antidotes, weather permitting and if not I'll see you on the veranda in half an hour. . . What? . . . The phone again? . . . Plain or on the rocks? . . . Remind me to have my Bermudas pressed . . . Who? . . . Tell 'em to call me back when the water is warmer. . . . You have got sand in your ears, Miss TWIPSEY."

(MISS TWIPSEY tried valiantly to make it clear to the boss that he was definitely back from the vacation place and that the summer of 1955 was done for. Let's get on with the letter," she urged.)

"Okay. You jump in first and I'll follow. . . . Mind the surf and undertow. . . . Just wind up the letter to Cripps, Monahan, Tennis & Blondie in your own way. . Sign it with my full name, O. Howe Lacaidaisical for the Buggs, Lifeguard, Mambo & Nosepeel Corporation. . . . No. . . . Where am I? And if so throw me a life preserver."

"Pull yourself together and face autumn." said Miss Twipsey." You take this oarlock and I'll use a paddle and see what we can do. Heavens! You've got me walking that way, too!!"

ARGENTINA ROUTINE

"I'm quitting" the Peron declared,
"Farewell! Good bye! So long!"
He took a breath and swiftly said
"Correction: I am wrong."

Now that Russian farmers have visited us, a group of builders is expected. . . . They may be surprised to see how many Americans have their own homes no matter how deeply in the "red."

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — A proposition for bringing a large manufacturing concern, worth over one million dollars, to Marion was discussed at a meeting by directors of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. Jesse Swank, pastor of First Methodist Church at Van Wert, was assigned to Epworth Methodist Church here at the closing session of the West Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Springfield.

20 YEARS AGO — Armies of men moved into the hurricane-devasted Florida keys for the gruesome task of bringing back the dead, already totaling 256.

Arrangements had been made by the executive committee of the Marion County Fair Board to have United States national guardsmen take charge of parking and police duty at the 85th annual fair beginning the following week, it was announced by J. Aultman Raub, secretary.

Ethel Barrymore, queen of the theater world's "royal family," was to bring her stage play, "The Constant Wife," to the Palace Theater sometime in October, the first time in approximately 10 years that a ranking star of the stage had brought a Broadway hit to Marion, it was announced by George E. Planck, theater manager.

10 YEARS AGO — President Truman called upon congress to keep his war powers in force for the reconversion "emergency" as he laid down a 21-point legislative program which included "limited" tax cuts the following year and proposals to achieve full employment in Washington.

The first American reconnaissance patrols entered Tokyo to arrange for the formal entry of First Cavalry troops and General MacArthur two days later.

Swift justice appeared on its way for several thousand Japanese named in 1,000 atrocity cases, a dispatch from the war crimes branch of General MacArthur's staff in Manila revealed.

The first formal services in the new temple headquarters of the Marion Congregation of Israel on E. Center St. was to be those in observance of Rosh Hashonah, Jewish new year, the following two days.

A budget of $90,000 to finance the work of the local agencies and pay the county's share in the support of national wartime agencies for 1945-46 was approved by the board of trustees of the Marion Community Foundation Inc. at a meeting in the foundation office.

Margaret Ann Hinamon, James Chapman Married

The Memorial Methodist Church at Caledonia was the scene of the wedding Friday evening, Aug. 26, of Miss Margaret Ann Hinamon and James W. Chapman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinamon of near Marion and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chapman of near Caledonia.

Bouquets of white gladioli and lighted candles held in candelabra decorated the altar for the 7:30 o'clock service read by the pastor, Rev. Willard M. Lockard.

Presenting a program of nuptial music were Miss Martha Clark, organist, and Mrs. Harold Ludwick, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. Over the fitted lace bodice trimmed with tulle was worn a lace jacket styled with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves which ended in points over the hands. It was button trimmed down the front where a wide panel of tulle was added to her bouffant skirt of lace, the lace was scalloped, and the skirt was worn over an old fashioned hoop. Her fingertip length veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of lace trimmed with seed pearls. Her jewelry was pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and showered with white ribbon streamers.

ATTENDING THE bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Nancy Tower of Marion. Her ballerina length gown was of midnight blue nylon over taffeta and net with a hoop skirt. She wore a matching headband and veil and carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and pompons, tied with blue lacelon. To light the candles, Miss Mary Kay Hinamon, sister of the bride, wore a dress of ice blue acetate and silk and had a wrist corsage of white pompons and daisies.

Robert Dickerson of Caledonia served as best man for the bridegroom and ushers were Ronnie Gist and Robert Hill of near Caledonia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Hinamon chose a two-piece dress of navy blue crepe with which she combined white accessories. Mrs. Chapman was attired in a navy blue faille suit with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of red rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for about 150 guests was held in the church parlors. The bride's table held a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and encircled with white daisies and fern. Lighted candles in silver holders also were on the table. Serving were Mrs. John Monnette, aunt of the bride, Miss Marlene Mautz, Miss Harriet Orr, Miss Deanne Herron and Miss Marjorie Lucas, assisted by Mrs. Milo Brockelsby, Mrs. Walter Koehler and Miss Helen Brockelsby.

PRESENTLY, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman are at their home south of Caledonia. Sept. 10 they will leave for a visit with Mr. Chapman's sister, Mrs. Ray Weuner, in Hollywood, Fla., and then will make their home in Coral Gables, Fla., where he will attend the college of engineering at the University of Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Chapman was graduated from Harding High School this year and is employed with the Fulfillment Corp. of America. Mr. Chapman was graduated from Caledonia High School this year and is employed as a laboratory technician at Tecumseh Products Co., Marion Division.

Guests at the wedding were from Marion, Columbus, McCutchenville, Nevada, Morral, Galion, Edison and Mount Gilead.

At the rehearsal party given by the bridegroom's parents, Miss Hinamon presented pearl earrings to her maid of honor, organist and vocalist and an Arlene Francis necklace to the candlelighter. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a tie clasp and cuff links. Mr. Chapman gave gold cuff links to his best man and ushers.

Previous to her marriage, Miss Hinamon was complimented with a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Nancy Tower and Miss Marlene Mautz at the former's home on Merchant Ave.

Visitors Claim U.S. Husbands Spoiling Wives

WASHINGTON (UP) — Six visiting French women agree that American women are "treated like queens" and spoiled by their husbands.

The ladies also express dismay at the litter on American streets, delight at corn-on-the-cob and other American food, and wonder whether "so much television for American children is good." But the French women find it difficult to form an opinion on American men.

The likes, dislikes and no opinion were voiced recently when the six women leaders from France met reporters after a two-month stay in this country under the sponsorship of the Women's Bureau of the Labor Department and the Foreign Operations Administration.

A woman reporter suggested that American women are concerned about the disappearance of chivalry in American males. She asked the ladies from France what they thought.

"Oh," said attractive Mrs Martha Enderle-Wurtz, a department store director from Strasbourg. "The American husband really spoils his wife . . . the American woman is a queen in her home."

No Opportunity

The five others nodded enthusiastically when her reply was translated. But there was a silence when they were asked for more comment on American men.

Mrs. Enderle explained with a smile, "do not forget we were invited by American women and did not meet many American men."

"We were always in a car with the president of a women's club," blonde Miss Bernadette De Lignieres said softly.

The women spent most of their stay visiting institutions in line with their jobs as social workers, lawyers, budget officer, and department store director. But they also were guests in some American homes.

That's where questions on American food, television, and American women's clothes came in.

Bernadette, a lawyer and the only woman judge in Strasbourg, confessed to developing a "soft spot" for corn-on-the-cob, which she said, through an interpreter, "I consumed extensively."

Cooking Better

Miss Renee Tessier, budget officer in the Ministry of Finance in Paris, said when she arrived here she was "apprehensive about American food." And she said she was, at first, "amazed and puzzled" at the mixture of sweet and non-sweet foods.

But she said she found "your cooking better all around and more healthful than ours." She said French food "may be more flattering to the taste, but it is not as healthful for you."

Miss Georgette Letievant, social worker from Lyons, said there is "certainly a lot" of television in America — "maybe too much for children."

Mrs. Enderle said she found American women "more elegantly dressed than I had thought." She also noted their clothes are "shall we say, in technicolor . . . sometimes too much color."

It was Mrs. Enderle who also commented on littered American streets—especially those in Chicago—but only when pressed for any dislikes.

"Since Americans are so spotlessly attired," she said, "I was shocked at the refuse in the streets."

60,000 Hear Truman Flay GOP in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman delivered a ringing attack on the Republican administration Monday.

Truman spoke after the longest and largest Labor Day parade in Detroit history, in which 60,000 AFL and CIO union members marched amiably in demonstrations of their forthcoming merger in one union.

Truman ripped into the Eisenhower administration's labor policies and urged the union members to back the Democratic presidential candidate in 1956, because he said "he will be a good man and a friend of labor.

Responding to cries from the crowd to "Give 'em hell, Harry," Truman drew his biggest applause when he charged that "Certain Republican politicians are getting ready to play rough" in the forthcoming campaign. "If the Democratic party invites me into the campaign," he added, "the Republicans will get all the rough they want."

Truman singled out for praise the guaranteed annual wage plan of the CIO United Auto Workers then turned to the Taft-Hartley Act. He said the Taft-Hartley Act "expressly permits the states to pass these anti-union (right to work) laws".

Truman in his nationally televised speech made no mention of Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who has been boomed as a favorite son candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination. Williams introduced Truman to the Labor Day gathering.

Churchmen Spend Holiday Working On Parish House

Members of the Prospect Street Methodist Men's Club took advantage of the Labor Day holiday Monday to work on the newly acquired parish house located at the rear of the church. The 15 men applied a second coat of paint and by early afternoon painting of the house and of a rear building had been completed. A group of women provided a spaghetti dinner for the workmen.

After the interior has been redecorated the building will be used for Sunday School class rooms, Junior Church and general meetings. Besides painting of the house projects of the Men's Club include paving of a section of ground between the sidewalk and curb on the north side of the church, sponsoring a Boy Scout Troop now in process of organization and purchase of a new American flag for the church sanctuary.

Club officers include Lowell Midlam, president; John Boyd, vice president; Charles Rowland, secretary; and Kennteh Hecker, treasurer; and members at large on a board of control are Lowell Mitton, Loren Starner, Wilbur Flach, Marshall Maxwell, Kenneth Smith, Bernard Brooks and Rollin Beach. Total membership numbers 75.

No charge is ever made for Red Cross supplies or services.

Postoffice Will Release New Half-Cent Stamp

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today announced the description of the ½ cent Benjamin Franklin stamp of the new ordinary series. The stamp, the eleventh of the new regular series to be released, will be first placed on sale at Washington, D.C., on Oct. 20, 1955, on the opening day of the Washington Jubilee Exhibition.

The stamp, arranged vertically and surrounded with a simple picture frame effect, will be orange in color.

The central subject, a likeness of Benjamin Franklin, was reproduced from a portrait in pastel by J. S. Duplessis in the book entitled: "The Pictorial Life of Benjamin Franklin, Printer," furnished by the Library of Congress.

The "great fire of London" destroyed 13,200 houses on Sept. 2, 1666.
